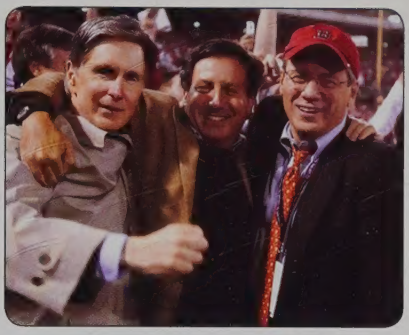
A NEW TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE



When the Boston Red Sox ownership group successfully outbid competitors to purchase the club on December 20, 2001, Principal Owner John W. Henry called it "a new day." After a 69-year stewardship of the Boston Red Sox and Fenway Park by Tom and Jean Yawkey and their trustees, a new chapter in this franchise's compelling saga would begin. Little did Henry know how prophetic his phrase would become.

In the nine seasons since Henry, Tom Werner, Larry Lucchino, and their partners purchased the club, the ballpark, and 80 percent of the New England Sports Network (NESN) for an estimated $660 million, plus $40 million in assumed debt, the ownership has created an era in which the club has constructed the longest sellout streak in baseball history, saved America's Most Beloved Ballpark from the wrecking ball, and won two World Series, the first in 2004 ending 86 years of excruciating frustration throughout New England and the worldwide fan base known as Red Sox Nation.

The club's leaders continue to uphold the five promises they made at their introductory press conference on December 21, 2001. While the work goes on, these commitments have combined to transform the Boston Red Sox into a ballclub that exemplifies excellence.

COMMITMENT #1: TO FIELD A TEAM WORTHY OF THE FANS' SUPPORT

Acknowledging that the primary obligation of a club is to field a team worthy of the fans' support, the leaders set out to construct a club that would make New England proud. In their first nine seasons, they have fielded winning teams each year, participated in postseason play six times in the last eight seasons, and thus far have become the only franchise in the 21st century to win two World Championships.

Since 2002, Boston's .578 winning percentage is second best among the 30 Major League teams, and the Red Sox have posted at least 93 victories seven times. The club's six playoff appearances in the last eight years also rank as tied for the second most in the Majors in this span.

As a result, the fans of Red Sox Nation continue to demonstrate their remarkable passion by turning out in record numbers, having achieved an active streak of 631 regular-season sellout games at Fenway Park.

The streak, which started on May 15, 2003, represents a new Major League record, set on September 8, 2008 with the club's 456th consecutive regular-season sellout. The club reached 2.7 million in attendance for the first time in 2003, hit 2.8 million for the first time in 2004, saw the 2.9 million mark in 2006 and 2007, welcomed 3 million fans in 2008 and 2009, and saw 3,046,444 fans in 2010, the third-largest single-season home attendance ever for the club (3,062,699 in 2009, 3,048,248 in 2008).

COMMITMENT #2: TO PRESERVE ALL THAT'S GOOD ABOUT FENWAY PARK AND TO TAKE THAT EXPERIENCE TO A HIGHER LEVEL

While baseball is the Red Sox' highest priority, the club's leadership has put great emphasis on improving Fenway Park and enhancing the experience at a ballgame. With the expertise of the club's architects and the vision of team ownership, the club has made Fenway improvements each year, beginning in 2002. The primary objectives have been to add seats, shorten lines, increase amenities, enhance information access, and improve the facilities for players and staff at a ballpark that will celebrate its 99th anniversary in 2011. In addition, the Red Sox promised to do their part to preserve and protect the neighborhoods around the park, from Kenmore Square through the Fenway to the Longwood Medical area.

As a result of the success of the improvements, Henry, Werner and Lucchino announced on March 23, 2005, that the club was formally committing to remain long-term at Fenway Park with "no strings attached." The news elicited congratulations, gratitude and honors at the local, state and federal levels.

The results of the improvements have been dramatic.

2002-2004: Immediately after purchasing the club, the new ownership group added 400 seats for Opening Day, 2002, and made a series of other improvements. Starting September 5, 2002, the Yawkey Way Concourse, an expansion of the park onto the neighboring street, added 25,000 square feet, doubled the fans' space on the third base side and cleared more clutter from the Gate A concourse.

In 2003, the club added 269 seats atop the fabled left-field wall and drew rave reviews. Boston Magazine would later dub the Green Monster Seats as the best seats in Boston and in 2008, the seats topped a list of the 10 best seats in baseball compiled by USA Today, combining nominations from readers and votes from their staff. The Red Sox added 87 Home Plate Seats on the field and 133 more Dugout Seats. Again, they converted standing room to seating room to maintain the existing capacity. A new "Big Concourse" was introduced where fans found 25,000 more square feet beneath the center-field bleachers and right-field grandstand and enjoyed new menu options from new kitchens. The park's concession stands increased to 81, the width of the concourse doubled from 30 feet to 60 feet, and usable space between Gates B and C tripled.

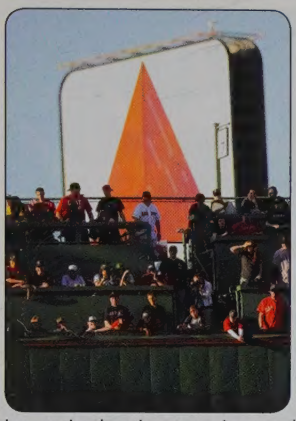
In 2004, the Red Sox created a new Fenway Park neighborhood, the Right Field Roof. Installing tables shaped like home plate that accommodate parties of four, the roof added 192 new seats and space for 250 standing room patrons. New amenities included unique menu items, in-seat service, new restrooms, an open-air bar with televisions, and an elevator.

Across the field, the refreshed Third Base Concourse added new concessions, restrooms, and space, just as the Big Concourse had done the year before. Adding new amenities for the Dugout Seat patrons, the club created the Crown Royal Club (now the Absolut Clubhouse) on the Third Base Concourse.

2005-2010: In 2005, the Red Sox installed a new field with a sand-based drainage system that allowed the field to remain playable far longer than before. In addition, the Red Sox clubhouse received a new, large weight room, a room for hydrotherapy, a new coaches room that gave the players more space, and a larger interview room. For fans, the club helped decongest the narrow walkway atop the grandstand seats on the first base side. The First Base Deck gave fans more room and added more concession stands to further reduce lines.

In 2006, the Red Sox broke the glass that had separated patrons in the .406 Club from the field, and divided the large venue into two open-air seating areas: the EMC Club below and the State Street Pavilion above. The club also remodeled the pavilion level down the first base line and third base line, adding as many as five rows to an area that only had four. In addition, a new staircase from the corner of Yawkey Way and Van Ness Street was added to relieve congestion inside Gate D.

In 2007, a Third Base Deck behind the Grandstand seats was constructed to add space and concessions. A total of 26 of the Private Suites also received a major upgrade, and the improvements even extended to the facilities occupied by ushers, ticket takers, security staff, ball attendants, and mascots. A new visitor's batting cage was added right behind the third base concourse and the press box was expanded and improved with better sightlines and amenities.



2008's Year VII Fenway Park improvements included the addition of more than 800 new State Street Pavilion seats plus standing room tickets, down the first and third base lines, as well as a "Standing Room Corner" in left field. Eight new private suites, available on a single game basis, replaced the six that were housed in the temporary boxes placed on the pavilion for the 1999 All-Star Game, and 12 private suites were renovated. The "Coca-Cola Corner," featuring family-friendly seating and hospitality was unveiled in left field as well. The unique area featured 412 new seats and was part of the extension and expansion of the Red Sox partnership with Coca-Cola, the longest-standing team sponsor with a relationship dating back to 1912. New, linear scoreboards lined portions of the EMC Level fascia with the "LED" technology that now provide more detailed game information.

As part of 2009's Year VIII improvements, a large portion of the lower seating bowl, between Sections 14 and 28, was repaired and waterproofed, a project that required removing and reinstalling the Dugout Seats, Field Box Seats, Loge Box Seats and Grandstand Seats in these sections with new or refurbished seats. Existing wheelchair and companion seating locations were improved with better sightlines as well. Additionally, the Right Field Roof saw the additions of approximately 560 new seats and additional dedicated standing room spaces with drink rails. The Budweiser Right Field Roof Deck was also expanded with 28 new seats at tables, including five new ADA locations and an extended standing room platform. The roof of the Jeano Building, built in 1914, next door to Fenway Park was also replaced during the off-season. The Jeano Building, which serves as the home of the Red Sox Front Offices, the Third Base Deck, the Third Base Concourse and Game On! also featured a restoration of its windows and the 4 Yawkey Way entry, the main entrance to the Red Sox Front Offices.

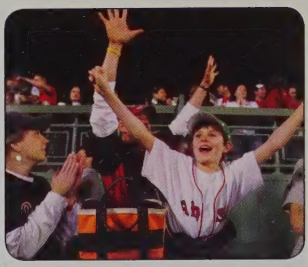
In 2010, the concrete in the lower left-field seating bowl was repaired and waterproofed. The seats themselves were replaced with new dugout, field box and loge box seats. In the left-field grandstand area, the original seats were refurbished with self-rising mechanisms. In an effort to create additional space and enhance the fan experience, the concession stands behind home plate at the top of the Grandstand was replaced by new expanded stands that will offer a wider variety of food and beverage items. The restrooms that previously resided in this location on the concourse were removed and new larger restrooms with additional fixtures for both men and women were constructed on a Mezzanine area positioned above Gate D, which is accessible via a new staircase that connects to the top of the Grandstand. Additionally, new family restrooms were added adjacent to the new concession stands. A new staircase was built to connect the top of the Grandstand to the new mezzanine level restrooms. The lower third base concourse, including a new stairway that provides improved access to/from the Gate A concourse and the lower third base concourse, upgraded utilities and other infrastructure-related items, and enhancements to the interiors of both the visitor's clubhouse and grounds crew areas were also made.

2011: The 2010-11 off-season marked the final year of major annual improvements to the ballpark, thus completing a 10-year plan to fulfill a pledge made by ownership upon acquisition of the club, and reaffirmed in 2005, to improve every facet of the ballpark while preserving and protecting the ballpark for future generations. The improvements completed at Fenway Park over the past 10 years have been designed to ensure that the park will remain structurally sound, and the home of the Boston Red Sox for the next 30-40 years. The investment for the 10-year program is estimated to total approximately $285 million, the largest investment in the history of the almost 99-year-old iconic ballpark.

Three new High Definition video display and scoring systems were installed at Fenway Park, representing a significant upgrade over previously existing scoreboards. The Red Sox selected ANC Sports to install three new state-of-the-art Mitsubishi Electric Diamond Vision™ light emitting diode (LED) video screens.

Other off-season renovations included the concrete repair, waterproofing, and seat replacements of the Right Field lower seating bowl originally constructed in 1933-34. This marks the completion of the repair and waterproofing of the entire lower seating bowl, a project started with the Bleachers in 2007 and continued with the original 1912 bowl in 2008 and the 1933-34 Left Field seating bowl in 2009. Existing Dugout, Field Box and Loge Box seats were replaced by new seats with cup holders on a new concrete base. Dugout and Field Box seats were also padded.

Additional projects included new and expanded concession and merchandise stands in the Gate D area and a repaired and upgraded ground level concourse stretching from Gate D to Gate C that includes utility upgrades, new concrete concourse flooring and life safety improvements.



The Fan Experience: In addition to the structural changes, the club has added countless personal and ceremonial touches to the fan experience at Fenway Park. The Sox introduced ceremonies to honor heroes and thrill children at every game. From leaders of group outings to little fans shouting "Play Ball!" to cue the start of the game, the Red Sox use their sacred lawn to cast the spotlight on average citizens, community heroes, non-profit groups and the men and women of our Armed Forces.

Kids are chosen at random to be Honorary Bat Kids and to become "Little Stars" on Sundays and announce player names during the sixth inning over the Fenway Park microphone. Medical and health professionals are recognized as "Medical All-Stars" and teachers were honored as "Most Valuable Teachers." Special events have been introduced for Father's Day, Mother's Day, Grandparent's Day and Halloween, which have enabled fans to take a leisurely stroll around the Fenway greens, play a mild game of catch and reminisce about their fondest Fenway memories.

Fenway Park also began hosting the first-ever rock concerts in its history. These concerts have become a Fenway tradition and have featured legendary acts including Bruce Springsteen and the E Street Band, Jimmy Buffett, the ageless Rolling Stones opened by the Black-Eyed Peas, the Dave Matthews Band, who in 2005 were preceded by Sheryl Crow and returned for another engagement in 2009, The Police, Neil Diamond, the cult-favorite Phish who launched their reunion tour at Fenway in 2009, and the incomparable Sir Paul McCartney who serenaded generations of fans during a remarkable two-day performance at America's Most Beloved Ballpark.

Former players and personalities have played a key role as well. In 2005, the club named the left field pole "Fisk's Pole" to honor Carlton Fisk for his legendary home run in Game 6 of the 1975 World Series. In 2006, the club paid tribute to the 1946 and 1986 American League Champions and on September 27, celebrated Johnny Pesky's 87th birthday by formally naming "Pesky's Pole," making official in right field that which had been the established vernacular for decades. 2007 brought a season-long tribute for the 40th anniversary of the 1967 Red Sox that captured the hearts of New England during an improbable run to the American League pennant. In 2008, the club formally retired Pesky's uniform No. 6 for his over five decades of service in multiple capacities to the club. In 2009 the club honored former center fielder and Red Sox legend Dom DiMaggio who passed away in May 2009 at the age of 92. In a touching tribute at Fenway Park, with his wife Emily present, the club dedicated the center field flag pole, which DiMaggio had so skillfully navigated during his playing days, to his memory. The Red Sox also celebrated Jim Rice's long-overdue induction into the National Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown and retired his uniform No. 14 to the right-field façade at Fenway Park in 2009 as recognition of his excellence on the baseball field.

COMMITMENT #3: TO MARKET AGGRESSIVELY TO A NEW, BROAD REGION

The third commitment made by ownership was to market the club aggressively to a new, broad region. The club, blessed with fans throughout New England, across the nation, and around the globe, engaged in programs to demonstrate that loyalty is a two-way street. Some of the myriad initiatives kicked off by the Red Sox to recognize, celebrate, honor and engage its fan base include the annual Red Sox Road Trip and Red Sox Caravans, New England State Days, World Championship Trophy Tours and the club's Red Sox Nation and Red Sox Kid Nation fan affinity programs.

From January 24-31, 2003, the Fenway Ambassadors, Red Sox alumni and current players rode through frigid and blizzard conditions to meet fans in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island and Connecticut. A Summer Caravan continued the outreach, this time with combinations of Henry, Werner, and Lucchino. The visits to each state included pomp and ceremony from elected officials and fans at public rallies, and personal interaction and financial contributions at children's group homes in each state. In addition to the outbound visits, the club reprised an old tradition from the 1950's with celebrations for each of the states at Fenway Park called "State Days" and for the children whom the club's owners had met at the homes, a practice that continues every season.

In addition to the grass roots marketing, the club has worked more closely with NESN, the booming New England voice that carries Red Sox games and programming to most of New England, and beyond. In addition to broadcasting games, NESN also broadcasts club produced commercials and promotional pieces. It also airs the multiple New England Emmy Award winning show Red Sox Report, an in-house program produced by Red Sox Video Production staffers.

Upon winning the World Series on October 27, 2004, the Red Sox received the long-awaited Commissioner's World Series Championship Trophy, and immediately set out to share it with their fans. The Red Sox carried the grand symbol of faith rewarded to every state in New England, plus New York, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Washington, D.C., Florida and the Dominican Republic. In addition, the club brought the trophy to each of the 351 cities or towns in Massachusetts. A second World Championship in 2007 led to another Trophy Tour, which even included a stop in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Since winning the 2004 World Series, the Red Sox have sought to assemble and count their fan base in an online program that invites members of Red Sox Nation to make their citizenship official via redsox.com. Over 50,000 strong, with citizens from all 50 states and 48 countries, Red Sox Nation stands as the largest fan club in Major League Baseball. Citizens enjoy benefits ranging from ticket opportunities to exclusive access to club events, and connect to a community of fans on redsox.com. Red Sox Kid Nation presented by Hood enters its seventh season with nearly 20,000 members worldwide. Young Red Sox fans receive collectible souvenirs, discounted tickets to home games and are eligible for unique offers and drawings.

Since 2009, Fenway Ambassadors embark on the "Red Sox Road Trip" each January and travel throughout New England to distribute 6,500 pre-sale ticket vouchers, which represented guaranteed ticket purchasing opportunities. The club expanded the Road Trip in 2010 and extended it to include the team's Spring Training home in Fort Myers, Lee County, FL. Front Office representatives now also visit the Southwest Florida Children's Hospital, Boys and Girls Clubs and hold public events, including one at City of Palms Park, where fans could come and receive giveaways, ticket discounts and have their picture taken with the 2004 and 2007 World Series trophies.

COMMITMENT #4: TO BE ACTIVE PARTICIPANTS IN THE COMMUNITY

This leadership of the Red Sox vowed to be active participants in the community, and has taken that outreach to new levels. Immediately after completing the purchase of the club on February 27, 2002, the new ownership group established the Red Sox Foundation, which has made disbursements of nearly $40 million in over its eight years in operation. In recognition of the impact the team charity has made on the community, the Red Sox Foundation received the 2009 Steve Patterson Award for Excellence in Sports Philanthropy from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and The Sports Philanthropy Project, and in 2010 it received the inaugural Commissioner's Award for Philanthropic Excellence presented by Major League Baseball for its work with the Red Sox Scholars program, the Foundation's educational Cornerstone.

The Red Sox enhanced community relations outreach has set records each year regarding appearances that foster player-fan interaction. In 2010 alone, Red Sox players and coaches made over 500 personal appearances. Players donated their time and tickets through various programs, including Tim Wakefield's Wakefield Warriors (13th season); Tek's 33s by Jason Varitek (7th season); Youk's Kids by Kevin Youkilis (5th season); David Ortiz' Papi's Pals (2nd season); Papelbon's Pen by Jonathan Papelbon (2nd season) and Terry Francona's ticket program for military personnel (2nd season). The Red Sox Alumni also contributed by making over 175 appearances on behalf of the club.

Additionally, the Red Sox also donated thousands of items and experiences to be auctioned and benefit many worthy causes and charities. Ranging from pre-game ceremony participation and special in-game moments to autographed baseballs, jerseys, bats and pictures, the number of unique items and experiences donated in 2010 was over 4,500 items, that went to New England based non-profit organizations.

The Red Sox Wives also consistently render tremendous services to the community. They created and sold two books for kids, "Fenway Park, A to Z," in 2004, and "Fenway 1-2-3" in 2005. They also have produced a variety of events as a group and individually that have generated record amounts of food for the hungry, skin cancer awareness, and funds to fight diseases like diabetes, cancer, ALS, and support the prevention of abuse of women.

In 2003, the club instituted a tradition by using the dual nature of January 31—both Jackie Robinson's birthday and the eve of Black History Month—to provide an annual seminar that teaches children what they should learn—and teach—about the man who broke baseball's color barrier. The fresh initiative inspired Massachusetts Senator John Kerry and Representative Richard Neal to begin successful legislation in their respective Houses that resulted in Congress bestowing the Congressional Gold Medal to the family of the late Jackie Robinson on March 2, 2005.

The Sox have extended the spirit of community outreach to fans around the world. Through its Lindos Suenos program, 10 American and 10 Dominican teens, all of varying socio-economic backgrounds, have been spending two weeks doing community service, playing baseball and having fun in the Dominican Republic every summer since 2004. In 2010, the teens visited Futuro Vivo, a school located in the town of Guerra, which focuses on the education of children and families in the poorest communities. While at Futuro Vivo, they refurbished a baseball field, painted and repaired outdoor furniture, and spent time with the children from the school. The Red Sox Foundation, through its Japan Youth Exchange Program, which began in 2008, saw 12 Japanese youngsters stay with American host families for 12 days to participate in a number of clinics and exhibition games with young American teams of the same age.

COMMITMENT #5: TO END THE CURSE OF THE BAMBINO AND WIN WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS FOR BOSTON, NEW ENGLAND AND RED SOX NATION

In their third year at the helm in 2004, the leaders of the Red Sox achieved the ultimate goal. They broke the proverbial "Curse of the Bambino," if it ever existed, and extinguished the suspense and frustration that had been a psych ocivic phenomenon known throughout the world of sports.

Red Sox Nation would not have to wait 86 years for another championship as a second World Series victory would follow just three years later in 2007. It certainly has been a new day for the Boston Red Sox, one that has created a new tradition of excellence.

The official team charity of the Boston Red Sox, the Red Sox Foundation is committed to harnessing the passion of Red Sox Nation to serve at-risk children and wounded veterans in Boston and across New England. Founded in 2002 by Red Sox Principal Owner John Henry, Chairman Tom Werner, President/CEO Larry Lucchino and the team's generous partners, the Red Sox Foundation to date has committed more than $45 million to non-profit programs, making it the largest team charity in all of Major League Baseball.

The Red Sox Foundation has been nationally recognized for its significant and sustained community impact. Named the "Best Team Charity in Sports" by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and The Sports Philanthropy Project, the Red Sox Foundation also was honored by Major League Baseball with the first-ever "Commissioner's Award for Philanthropic Excellence" in 2010.

The Foundation's work centers primarily on five programs, including three managed by the team charity's staff. They include: the Red Sox Scholars Program, offering enrichment activities, tutoring, mentoring and college scholarships to Boston Public School students; the Red Sox Foundation's Rookie and RBI Youth Baseball Leagues, serving some 3,000 inner-city children and teens; and the Red Sox Foundation and Massachusetts General Hospital Home Base Program, a philanthropic partnership with the renowned Harvard teaching hospital which serves local veterans returning home from Iraq and Afghanistan with Traumatic Brain Injury (TBI) and Post-Traumatic Stress Syndrome (PTSD). In addition, the Red Sox Foundation also partners with two other vital nonprofits: The Jimmy Fund, supporting breakthrough cancer research at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute, and The Dimock Center in Roxbury, a health and social service agency providing services to 60,000 low income families.

Launched in 2009, the Home Base Program is the most recent addition to the team charity's cornerstone programs and provides confidential evaluations and clinical care for veterans with PTSD and TBI as well as support services for those veterans families. In 2010, the Red Sox Foundation launched "The Run to Home Base Presented by New Balance," a 9K fundraising run with a finish line of crossing home plate in Fenway Park. At the event, some 2,200 runners, including six United States Army units stationed in Iraq, raised $2.5 million for the Home Base Program. The "2011 Run to Home Base Presented by New Balance" is scheduled on Sunday, May 22nd and some 3,000 runners are expected to participate. The Executive Director of the Red Sox Foundation is Red Sox Senior Vice President Meg Vaillancourt. For more information about the team charity, please visit www.redsoxfoundation.org.

JOHN W. HENRY, Principal Owner

John W. Henry, an avid baseball fan, often refers to baseball as an "affair of the heart." Known throughout the game as an involved and passionate owner, he believes the people of New England have always been and will always be the true owners of the Boston Red Sox. Mr. Henry views his role as a steward of New England's beloved baseball team, charged with the responsibility on and off the field of ensuring the Red Sox continue to win World Championships while further enhancing the relationship between the community and the team.

Mr. Henry actively collaborates with Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino on a variety of aspects of the baseball experience.

"Larry Lucchino is my role model when it comes to baseball executives. His track record is impeccable. His commitment and passion for excellence on the field, creating fan-friendly environments and setting standards for community involvement make our ownership of the Red Sox something I look forward to each day.

"Tom Werner and I are like brothers. We talk every day about ideas on how to improve everything from the New England Sports Network to the length of the grass on the field. We are blessed with an incredibly strong ownership group that loves the Red Sox."

On December 20, 2001, the Boston Red Sox partners voted unanimously to sell 100 percent of the team's interests to an investment group headed by Mr. Henry and Tom Werner. The Major League clubs approved the ownership transfer from the Yawkey Trust and limited partners January 16, 2002. The sale closed February 27, 2002. World Series Championships in 2004 and 2007 have highlighted the stunning first nine seasons for Mr. Henry and his partners.

The 2004 team captivated an adoring and faithful Red Sox Nation with the greatest comeback in baseball history, all the more satisfying after being heart-broken the previous year in Yankee Stadium when Aaron Boone ended a dramatic seven-game championship series to decide the pennant.

The club that never quit, even when down three games to none to the archrival Yankees, won four straight—in breathtaking fashion—to capture the pennant, then captured four more in a row to sweep the St. Louis Cardinals, giving the Red Sox their first World title since 1918 and sending millions into delirium. The achievement came less than a thousand days (973) after purchasing the club.

In 2005, the Red Sox reached the postseason for the third consecutive year, a first in the franchise's rich 105-year history.

In 2007, Boston won its first AL East Division title since 1995 and posted an 11-3 postseason record to become the first two-time World Champion of the 21st century.

In 2008, the Red Sox returned to the playoffs for the fifth time over a six-year period. The team also drew three-million fans for the first time at Fenway Park while setting a Major League record for consecutive home sellouts.

In 2009, the club reached the postseason for the third consecutive year and sixth time in seven years. Boston notched its 500th consecutive sellout at Fenway Park on June 17 and finished the 2010 regular season with 631 straight sellouts, dating back to May 15, 2003.

Mr. Henry not only set out to win multiple World Series, but to make sure the Red Sox were active participants in the community. As a result, the club's community relations department has set records each of his first nine seasons as principal owner in the number of appearances arranged for players in the community, and the amount of authentic memorabilia donated to non-profit organizations in New England to help them raise funds.

Immediately after taking ownership, Mr. Henry and his partners founded—and funded—The Red Sox Foundation. The Red Sox Foundation is the largest and one of the fastest growing team charities in Major League Baseball. Though a relative newcomer to the New England philanthropic community, it has won numerous awards for its imaginative outreach and impact, including the 2009 national award for "Best Sports Charity" from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation and the Sports Philanthropy Project. In 2010 it was recognized by Major League Baseball with the inaugural "Commissioner's Award for Philanthropic Excellence" for the Red Sox Scholars program, the Foundation's educational cornerstone.

Supported through generous donations from Mr. Henry, along with Red Sox Chairman Tom Werner and their partners, as well as corporate sponsors and fans attending special fundraising events, The Red Sox Foundation has quickly become a powerful philanthropic force in this community. Over the past nine years, the team charity has committed nearly $40 million to non-profit health, education, recreation and social service programs serving at-risk children and their families.

With his passion and enthusiasm for baseball, Mr. Henry is accessible to the media and fans. He's often seen moving throughout ballparks in Spring Training and during the regular season. He sits in many areas of Fenway Park, from the Bleachers to the Green Monster Seats to the seats near the dugouts, and often greets fans at the gate. That exposure and interaction helped inspire the improvements that have widened the concourses, reduced concession lines and augmented the restrooms at Fenway Park.

"I love to listen to and interact with fans," Henry said. "Perhaps not every fan can identify with me, but I think I can identify with most of them because I've been a passionate baseball fan all my life. I know that even the best baseball team cannot win every night, but I want to make sure our fans win every night—that they enjoy as many aspects of our game, our tradition, and the Fenway experience as they can. If they don't, I want to know why and see what I can do to address their concerns immediately. It is the New England fans and their representative media that have created the romance, mystique and passion that we all feel when the words 'Boston Red Sox' are spoken."

Mr. Henry has garnered a wealth of experience—and nine championship rings—at three different levels in his 23 years (through 2010) in baseball at an ownership level. Prior to purchasing the Red Sox, he was chairman and sole owner of the Florida Marlins. He was also a limited partner of the New York Yankees, and was chairman and majority owner of the Tucson Toros of the Triple-A Pacific Coast League.

Mr. Henry also formed a co-ownership with Boca Raton, FL attorney Don Sider in the West Palm Beach Tropics of the Senior Professional Baseball League. The Tropics, managed by former Red Sox manager Dick Williams, posted a league-best 52-20 record in his one-year ownership, led by Hall of Famer Rollie Fingers and All-Stars Toby Harrah, Dave Kingman, Mickey Rivers and Al Hrabosky.

Mr. Henry is chairman of John W. Henry & Company, Inc. (JWH), which he founded in 1981. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Future Industry Association, National Association of Futures Trading Advisors (NAFTA) and the Managed Futures Trade Association. He is a recognized leader in alternative asset financial product innovation.

Mr. Henry is Principal Owner of Fenway Sports Group, formerly New England Sports Ventures (NESV). On October 15, 2010, Fenway Sports Group acquired 100% of Liverpool Football Club (LFC), one of the world's most historic sporting institutions. Fenway Sports Group owns a portfolio of companies that includes LFC, Boston Red Sox, New England Sports Network, FSG Global and Roush Fenway Racing.

In early 2002, he purchased a home in Boston. Born in Quincy, IL, John spent most of his childhood in Forrest City, AR, where his parents owned a farm. He was a dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan growing up, listening to St. Louis Cardinals broadcaster Harry Caray on the radio. At age 9, he saw his first Major League game at Sportsman's Park in St. Louis—the very city where he would see his own Boston Red Sox celebrate in triumph after completing the greatest comeback in baseball history.

THOMAS C. WERNER, Chairman

In the nine seasons that Tom Werner has been Chairman of the Boston Red Sox, the club has enjoyed unprecedented success, having advanced to postseason play three straight seasons and six times in seven years for the first time in its history. The pinnacle, of course, was the 2004 World Championship that ended an 86-year drought. Another World Series victory would follow in 2007. Red Sox fans have sold out 631 consecutive games at Fenway Park, the longest streak in baseball history. And together with Principal Owner John W. Henry and President/CEO Larry Lucchino, Werner on March 23, 2005, announced that the Red Sox had committed to remain long term at America's Most Beloved Ballpark.

Among the early bidders of the Red Sox in 2001, Werner led the only group that was committed to saving Fenway Park. Later joined by John Henry and Larry Lucchino, this group oversaw successive improvements that restored its luster. Now considered by many to be America's Most Beloved Ballpark, this ownership group is looking forward to celebrating its 100th anniversary at Fenway Park in 2012.

Through the successful improvements resulting from major investments, brilliant ingenuity, and dogged persistence, the club's ownership group concluded that the park could, indeed, be preserved. As a result, the ballpark is on track to see its 100th anniversary in 2012. The oldest and smallest park in the Majors would be the first ever to last 100 years.

A respected and veteran baseball owner since he purchased the San Diego Padres in 1990, Werner, along with Henry and their partners has helped lead the effort for a kinder, more fan-friendly atmosphere at the ballpark that has resonated with parents, grandparents, and children.

The Red Sox Foundation, established immediately after the purchase of the team, is another example of their leadership. Its charitable donations, after only eight seasons, are the biggest in professional baseball, as the Foundation gives away millions of dollars each year. In 2009, Werner helped in the establishment of the Home Base Program, an initiative founded and funded by the RSF and Massachusetts General Hospital, aiming to help military veterans affected by post-traumatic stress disorder and traumatic brain injury. The Home Base Progam is recognized as a model public/private partnership dealing with our wounded warriors. Werner is also proud of his involvement in the Teddy Ebersol-Red Sox Fields, which are now used by thousands of children.

Werner, a member of the Television Academy Hall of Fame for his extraordinary achievements as a creator and producer of many groundbreaking series, has had baseball in his soul his entire life. He played the game during his childhood, coached his children in youth baseball and has attended countless Major League games.

As a 17-year-old freshman at Harvard, Werner gave his heart to the ultimate underdogs, the Impossible Dream Red Sox of 1967. He has been a devoted follower of the Red Sox ever since.

For his visual studies class at Harvard, Werner created a documentary about Opening Day at Fenway Park, starting with the quiet, quaint park at rest, then exploding with the excitement of fans pouring into the ballpark. The education in film would lead to a rewarding career in television; the passion for the Red Sox and Fenway Park would later lead Werner to begin a quest to buy the team when it was offered for sale in 2001.

Werner is also an active contributor to Major League Baseball. He has been appointed to the Board of Major League Baseball Enterprises, which has oversight over national media arrangements as well as Major League Baseball Properties. He has also been appointed to the Board of the MLB Network, which debuted in January 2009.

In addition to these responsibilities, Werner takes great pride in his contributions to the success of the New England Sports Network. Most people in the television industry now regard NESN to be one of the strongest sports channels in the country, as it televises almost 300 live events each year, including Red Sox and Bruins games. Since 2001, NESN has more than doubled the amount of original programming it airs.

Werner's entry into Major League Baseball came in 1990 when he led a group that purchased the San Diego Padres. He served baseball on the national level as a member of the Executive Council and Chairman of the Television Committee. As such, he was a key force in establishing one of the most crucial innovations in baseball history—the Wild Card, the very element that enabled the Boston Red Sox, years later, to win their first World Championship since 1918.

Werner feels that the relationship between the ballclub and Red Sox fans is the most special in all of baseball. After the sweep of the Colorado Rockies in 2007, Werner said the following which has resonated among fans of Red Sox Nation.

"2004 was for our parents and grandparents and those people who suffered through eight decades before a World Championship. This is for us and for our children and for everybody in Red Sox Nation."

Embodying the values of integrity and quality, Werner (born April 12, 1950) has already achieved a lifetime of accolades in the television business. He and his partner, Marcy Carsey, have helped create such hits as "The Cosby Show," "A Different World," "Roseanne," "Third Rock from the Sun," "Cybill," "Grace Under Fire" and "That '70s Show." In September 2008, Werner's new animated show "The Life and Times of Tim" debuted on HBO.

Earlier, while working for ABC television, Werner and Carsey saw Robin Williams in a comedy club and launched his career in "Mork and Mindy." Werner also oversaw the development of "Bosom Buddies," which started the career of Tom Hanks; "Soap," which started the career of Billy Crystal; and "Taxi," which started the careers of Tony Danza and Danny DeVito.

Werner has also received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the Producers Guild of America. His company has garnered 24 Emmy Awards, 11 People's Choice Awards and numerous Golden Globes, Humanitas Prizes and Peabody Awards. In 2000, Werner and his longtime partners, Marcy Carsey and Caryn Mandabach, joined forces with Geraldine Laybourne and Oprah Winfrey to start Oxygen, a 24-hour cable channel serving the modern woman. Oxygen was acquired by NBC in late 2007 and is one of the fastest growing cable networks ever, now in almost 65,000,000 homes.

Werner spends much of the year in Boston, where he maintains a residence. He has served on a number of Boards, including the White House Fellows Commission. He currently serves on the Crossroads School Board and the Board for After School All Stars, a program helping at risk youth engage in after school programs, and the Ron Brown Scholar Program, which offers scholarships to African-American high school seniors who have demonstrated social commitment and leadership potential.

LARRY LUCCHINO, President/CEO

Larry Lucchino was named President/CEO of the Red Sox at the closing of the purchase of the team in February, 2002. Previously President/CEO of the Baltimore Orioles (1988-93) and the San Diego Padres (1995-01), Lucchino is a veteran of 32 years in Major League Baseball. With the Red Sox, Lucchino manages the franchise on a day-to-day basis with the active involvement of, and in collaboration with, Principal Owner John W. Henry and Chairman Tom Werner.

He has won rings with each franchise. The Orioles won the 1983 World Series, the Padres won the 1998 National League Pennant, and the Red Sox won the 2007 World Series, just three years after the 2004 World Championship that put an end to Boston's 86-year championship drought.

In his 22 full seasons as a President/CEO, his clubs have a winning record of 1,805-1,578 (.534), have reached post-season play eight times (1996, 1998, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2007, 2008, 2009), have won three pennants, and two World Series. In those 22 seasons, attendance has improved over the previous year 15 times and the franchises have set club attendance records 13 times, including an 8-year stretch with the Red Sox, topping 3 million for the first time in Red Sox history in 2008, and again surpassing 3 million in 2009 and 2010.

Lucchino is the first President/CEO to win pennants for two different franchises—let alone in two different leagues—since Hall of Fame executive Larry MacPhail more than 50 years ago with the Brooklyn Dodgers (1941) and the New York Yankees (1947). They are the only two to have done so. (Al Rosen won pennants as President/CEO of the Yankees in 1978 and as President of the San Francisco Giants in 1989, but Bob Lurie was the Giants CEO. Dave Dombrowski won pennants as GM of the Florida Marlins in 1997 and as President/GM of the Detroit Tigers in 2006.)

In addition to running championship franchises and setting attendance marks, Lucchino has earned a legacy for creating ballparks that have transformed the ballparks' role in the fan experience, influence on franchise value, and place in the community.

His vision for the design of Oriole Park at Camden Yards—a traditional, old-fashioned, asymmetrical, intimate downtown ballpark with modern amenities—ushered in an era of revolutionary ballpark architecture and ambiance responsible in part for the game's resurgence since 1992.

He also had the vision for the ballpark that saved baseball in San Diego. PETCO Park, designed to look and feel like San Diego, was approved in a 1998 landslide vote on Proposition C, a campaign that Lucchino spearheaded. As much as the Padres needed a ballpark, the city needed a catalyst to redevelop an under-utilized 26-block area in the city's downtown. As promised, a ballpark revitalized a key neighborhood, as it had done in Baltimore (and, subsequently, in other cities). The design of the park was completed in August, 2001, and construction was well underway when Lucchino left the Padres for the Red Sox after the 2001 season.

Subsequently, he was instrumental in pulling together the ownership group that joined John Henry and Tom Werner in their successful effort to purchase the Red Sox, announced on December 20, 2001. While every other group that sought to purchase the Red Sox advocated a replacement for venerable Fenway Park, the group led by Henry, Werner and Lucchino was the only one that committed itself to save—and improve—America's most beloved ballpark. The ownership group officially formalized its commitment to keep Fenway Park long term on March 23, 2005.

Over the course of a 10-year-long project (ending during the 2011 offseason), Lucchino has helped to oversee many changes to preserve, protect and improve Fenway Park. Such successful additions include: the Green Monster Seats, the Right Field Roof Seats, Dugout Seats, the Yawkey Way Concourse, the Big Concourse, the Third Base Concourse, the First and Third Base Decks, the EMC Club, the State Street Pavilion, renovations of the premium suites, the Left Field Coca Cola Corner, the Bleacher Bar, the expansion of the right field roof box section, and the installation of new high definition video display and scoring systems. These and other well-received infrastructure innovations and improvements have enhanced the fans' experience while respecting the integrity of the historic park and the surrounding neighborhood.

In the winter of 2010, Fenway Park was transformed into a hockey venue when it hosted the Boston Bruins and the Philadelphia Flyers on New Years Day for the third installment of the NHL Winter Classic. A week later, the Red Sox hosted the first-ever Hockey East outdoor college hockey games as the women's teams from UNH and Northeastern and the BC and BU men's squads played a doubleheader. In July of 2010, Fenway Park again was transformed, this time into a soccer site when Sporting C.P. from Portugal and Celtic F.C. from Scotland matched up for Football at Fenway—the first soccer match played at the ballpark in over 40 years.

While setting attendance records with all three franchises, Lucchino has made his mark in the cutting-edge marketing of baseball. His efforts at regionalization in Baltimore expanded the Orioles fan base from 2 million to 6 million. In his 14 years with the Orioles, the season ticket base increased from 1,600 to 28,000 plus a 13,000-person waiting list.

In his seven years with the Padres, the season ticket base more than doubled from 5,081 to 12,380 through 2000. Under his leadership, the Padres recorded their top four all-time attendance figures at Qualcomm Stadium in his last four years there (1998-2001).

In his nine seasons in Boston, the club has set franchise attendance records in eight of nine years, and has sold out 631 straight games dating back to May 15, 2003. This streak is the longest in the history of Major League Baseball, a record established on September 8, 2008, with sell-out #456, breaking the previous MLB record of 455, set by the 1995-2001 Cleveland Indians.

Each of the three franchises he has served as chief executive has established a major charitable foundation during his tenure (The Orioles Foundation, The Padres Foundation, and The Red Sox Foundation). Under his leadership, each franchise has re-invigorated its philanthropy, its community relations efforts, and its ballpark ambiance to ensure that all fans feel welcome. In November of 2010, the Red Sox and the Red Sox Foundation were given league wide recognition when they were named the recipients of the inaugural Commissioner's Award for Philanthropic Excellence.

Lucchino's passion for ballparks is rivaled by his drive for baseball's internationalization. He pioneered a groundbreaking relationship in Japan in 1997 with the Chiba Lotte Marines, and helped organize the Red Sox first trip to Japan in March, 2008 when they opened the MLB regular-season with two games at the Tokyo Dome. In addition, he previously arranged the efforts to play Major League Baseball's first regular season games in Mexico (1996) and Hawaii (1997) and established baseball's first International Opening Day in Monterrey, Mexico in 1999. He was an early, active supporter of the World Baseball Classic, and also serves on Major League Baseball's International Committee.

He has served on MLB's Restructuring Committee, the American League's Cable Television Committee, and as Chairman of the Player Development Contract Negotiations Committee. He was a member of the Realignment Committee and the Commissioner's Blue Ribbon Task Force on Baseball Economics, which released its recommendations for attacking the game's economic and competitive balance issues in July, 2000.

In recognition for "long and meritorious service to baseball" over three decades in the game, Lucchino was awarded the Judge Emil Fuchs Award by the Boston Baseball Writer's Association at their 72nd annual BBWAA dinner on January 20, 2011.

He joined the Red Sox as Vice President/Corporate Partnerships in March, 2002 and was named Senior Vice President/Sales and Marketing in 2005. In 2008, he was promoted to Chief Sales & Marketing Officer. The Brookline, MA native was among the first executives that Red Sox President/CEO Larry Lucchino brought with him from the San Diego Padres, for whom Kennedy had worked six years. Since joining the Red Sox, Kennedy has been an instrumental part of the revitalization of the Red Sox brand, the financial stability of the franchise and the preservation and protection of Fenway Park. Kennedy and his staff have increased sponsorship revenue by more than 400 percent, premium licensing revenue by 600 percent and the season ticket base by 32 percent with a season ticket waiting list of over 7,000. In 2004, Kennedy secured a long-term partnership with Anheuser-Busch that was instrumental in the creation of the new Right Field Roof Seats at Fenway. In 2005, he was charged with developing the sales and marketing plan for the new club seats at Fenway Park that debuted in 2006. Kennedy also secured long-term naming rights deals for the EMC Club and the State Street Pavilion at Fenway Park. Kennedy also oversees all non-baseball revenue generating activities at Fenway Park. In 2009, he oversaw the successful negotiations with the National Hockey League and Hockey East to stage the 2010 "Bridgestone NHL Winter Classic" and "Sun Life Frozen Fenway" NCAA division one outdoor ice hockey games at Fenway Park. In addition to ice hockey, 2010 also saw the return of professional soccer to Fenway Park when Kennedy and his team arranged for an international friendly match between Celtic FC & Sporting Lisbon. He also serves as a member the Red Sox Budget Committee, as Chairman of the Boston Red Sox Diversity Committee and as the club's business liaison to Major League Baseball.

In 2004, Kennedy helped create FSG Global, formerly Fenway Sports Group, which has emerged as one of the most well respected national sports sales representation agencies in its short six year history. As FSG Global's President, Kennedy has P & L responsibility for each FSG Global line of business, has hired all senior FSG Global executives and has helped secure relationships with FSG Global's client roster which includes the Red Sox, New England Sports Network, Boston College, Major League Baseball Advanced Media, the Deutsche Bank Championship and Fulham FC of the English Premier League. In 2007, FSG Global acquired 50% of NASCAR's largest team, Roush Fenway Racing. THEO EPSTEIN, Executive Vice President/General Manager

Theo Epstein is in his ninth season as General Manager of the Boston Red Sox and oversees the club's entire baseball operation. Under his leadership, the last eight years have brought unprecedented success to the organization. In that span, the Red Sox have posted a .578 winning percentage, second-best among the 30 Major League teams, won 95 or more games on six occasions, and advanced to postseason play six times in eight years. Boston's 34 wins in the six postseasons played, including four AL Championship Series appearances, rank second in the Majors since 2003. In 2009, Epstein was recognized by Sports Illustrated as MLB's General Manager of the Decade and was also dubbed Executive of the Decade by The Sporting News.

The Red Sox captured World Series victories in 2004 and 2007, making Epstein just the second individual since World War II to win at least two World Series titles in his first five seasons as a Major League general manager. The New York Yankees captured three straight Fall Classics in Brian Cashman's first three years as GM from 1998-2000.

Epstein is also the first Red Sox General Manager to preside over more than three playoff teams (2003, 2004, 2005, 2007, 2008 and 2009).

Epstein became Red Sox General Manager on November 25, 2002. In his first winter on the job, the club signed David Ortiz, Bill Mueller, Kevin Millar and Mike Timlin to help bring the 2003 Red Sox within five outs of the World Series. The next winter, the club acquired Curt Schilling and Keith Foulke before Epstein reshaped the roster on July 31, 2004 with the trade of Nomar Garciaparra and the acquisition of Dave Roberts. After the deadline deals, the Red Sox went 42-18 for the rest of the regular season and 11-3 in the postseason to win its first World Series title since 1918. Boston returned to the playoffs in 2005 before injuries derailed the 2006 club that held first place as late as August 2.

In 2007, the Red Sox led the AL East for the final 166 days of the season to win their first Division crown since 1995. At 96-66, Boston tied Cleveland for the best regular-season record in the Major Leagues and as in 2004, went on to post an 11-3 playoff record to capture its seventh World Championship. The Red Sox won the AL Wild Card in 2008 as second half deals for Jason Bay, Paul Byrd, and Mark Kotsay were instrumental in overcoming a rash of injuries and battling to one win away from reaching their third World Series appearance in five years. In 2009, Epstein's mid-season acquisitions of Victor Martinez, Casey Kotchman and Alex Gonzalez significantly improved both the team's offense and defense while the addition of Billy Wagner bolstered the bullpen, contributing to Boston's fifth AL Wild Card berth in his tenure. While 2010 proved to be marred by key injuries, Epstein's offseason acquisition of Adrian Beltre provided a much-needed boost as he paced the club in most offensive categories including hits, doubles (led Majors), batting average, slugging percentage and tied for team lead in RBI. Boston went a competitive 89-73, but fell short of postseason play for only the second time in Epstein's tenure.

Prior to the 2011 season, Epstein has made some important offseason moves, acquiring Adrian Gonzalez from the San Diego Padres and signing Carl Crawford to a seven-year deal.

A steadfast commitment to scouting and player development has been the key component in ensuring continued success on the Major League level. In the 2003 draft, Epstein's first, the Red Sox selected right-hander Jonathan Papelbon in the fourth round. The club selected 2007 AL Rookie of the Year and 2008 AL MVP Dustin Pedroia in the second round of the 2004 draft, and the 2005 and 2006 drafts were named second-best and best, respectively, in all of Major League Baseball by Baseball America.

Boston's top five selections in the 2005 draft have all advanced to the Major Leagues: OF Jacoby Ellsbury, RHP Craig Hansen (since traded to Pittsburgh), RHP Clay Buchholz, INF Jed Lowrie, and RHP Michael Bowden. The Red Sox became the first team to have each of its first five draft picks reach the Majors since the Angels and Cubs in the 2001 draft. Additionally, six picks from the 2006 draft have since made their Major League debuts with Boston in 2009 (RHP Daniel Bard, 1B Aaron Bates, OF Josh Reddick and LHP Dustin Richardson) and in 2010 (INF Lars Anderson and OF Ryan Kalish).

The Red Sox have continued to expand their international scouting efforts from Latin America to the Far East and beyond. A pair of veteran pitchers from Nippon Professional Baseball, Daisuke Matsuzaka and Hideki Okajima, have been mainstays on the staff for the last three playoff teams. In the winter of 2009, Boston signed right-hander Junichi Tazawa from Japan's Industrial League.

Epstein, 37, is in his 20th season in Major League Baseball, his ninth with the Red Sox. In 2002, he became the youngest individual in baseball history appointed to General Manager at the age of 28 years, 11 months. Two years later, at age 30, he became the youngest General Manager ever of a World Championship team.

Prior to his current position, he was appointed Boston's Assistant General Manager in March, 2002 after five seasons with the San Diego Padres baseball operations department, most recently as Director of Baseball Operations. He was also a member of the Padres Communications department in 1995-96 and began his baseball career as a summer intern for the Baltimore Orioles in 1992-94.

A graduate of Yale University and the University of San Diego Law School, Epstein was named the 2008 Baseball America Executive of the Year. He was also honored in 2003 and 2004 as the Major League Executive of the Year by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

In the spring of 2005, Theo and his brother, Paul, launched The Foundation To Be Named Later (FTBNL). A branch of the Red Sox Foundation, the FTBNL's mission is raising funds and awareness for non-profit agencies in the Greater Boston area serving disadvantaged youth.

Theo and his wife, Marie Whitney, are the parents of a son, Jack.

Gilula has played a key management role in the design and construction process, and the development of business operating plans for annual Fenway Park Improvements such as the Green Monster Seats, the Big Concourse, the Right Field Roof, the EMC Club, the State Street Pavilion, renovation of the private suites, and the expansion of the Right Field Roof Box section. Work performed in the 2010-2011 off-season represented the 10th and final year of ownership's 10-year plan of major annual improvements made to the 99-year old ballpark. Highlights of Year X Improvements included the installation of three new state-of-the-art High Definition video displays and scoring systems and upgrades to the Gate D concourse, including new and expanded concession stands.

Gilula has assisted with the coordination of the club's real estate activities, which have focused on ensuring that development activities in the surrounding Fenway neighborhood are complementary to the ballpark. To that end, he has negotiated agreements that have resulted in the addition of popular year-round restaurants such as Game On!, The Bleacher Bar, and Jerry Remy's Sports Bar and Grill.

Gilula is an active participant in the planning and implementation of non-traditional, ancillary uses of Fenway Park including popular annual happenings such as Futures at Fenway, a double header featuring Red Sox minor league affiliates, the Cape Cod League All-Star Game and summer concerts. During the winter of 2009-2010, Gilula played a vital role in the preparation and execution of the first-ever ice hockey events to take place at Fenway Park highlighted by the 2010 Bridgestone NHL Winter Classic and the Sun Life Frozen Fenway college games, including the first-ever outdoor women's college hockey game. In the summer of 2010, Gilula and his team transformed the Fenway Park field into a soccer pitch as the ballpark hosted its first soccer match since 1968 when the Celtic Football Club faced the Sporting Club of Portugal in an international friendly.

Gilula is responsible for the development of the new Red Sox Spring Training complex in Lee County, FL, Boston's spring home since 1992. The Red Sox are working closely with County leadership on the design and construction of a new state-of-the-art, single-site facility that will meet the long-term needs of the organization and create the premier Spring Training complex for both players and fans. The new complex, scheduled to open for the 2012 Spring Training season, is a significant statement of commitment by the team to Southwest Florida as it will keep the Red Sox in Lee County for at least the next 30 years.

Gilula originally joined the Red Sox in October, 2002, as Special Assistant to the President/CEO, and in that capacity he worked on a number of special projects including the design and construction of annual Fenway Park Improvements, the refurbishment of the existing Red Sox Spring Training facilities in Fort Myers, FL, and the construction of the Red Sox Academy in the Dominican Republic.

Gilula began his baseball career in June, 1998, when Lucchino, then President/CEO of the San Diego Padres, hired him to work on the planning and development of the team's new ballpark and the surrounding neighborhood. As Director of Ballpark Development, Gilula coordinated all aspects of the design and construction of Petco Park, the acclaimed home of the Padres, which opened in downtown San Diego in 2004.

Gilula was born in New York City, NY and grew up in La Jolla, CA. He graduated with a degree in Politics from Princeton University in 1998, where he was captain of the varsity tennis team in 1997 and 1998. FENWAY PARK: America's Most Beloved Ballpark

Major League Baseball's oldest and smallest ballpark, Fenway Park has been the home of the Boston Red Sox since April 20, 1912 when, after two days of rainouts, the park hosted its first regular season game, an 11-inning, 7-6 Boston win over the New York Highlanders in front of 27,000 fans. Tris Speaker drove home the winning run, but the story of the game did not make front page headlines in the local papers due to news of the sinking of the Titanic just days earlier.

In 99 seasons, venerable Fenway Park has been home to many of the greatest players in baseball history, including Hall of Famers Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker, Lefty Grove, Jimmie Foxx, Joe Cronin, Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Carl Yastrzemski and Jim Rice.

The park has witnessed some of the most memorable moments in baseball history, highlighted, perhaps, by Carlton Fisk's 12th-inning home run to win Game 6 of the 1975 Series. In 2007, the Red Sox celebrated the 40th Anniversary of the "Impossible Dream", which culminated at Fenway Park on October 1, 1967 with Boston's American League pennant clinching victory over the Minnesota Twins.

Among the world's most famous sporting venues, Fenway Park is best known for the 37-foot high, 231-foot long "Green Monster" left-field wall, which looms only 310 feet from home plate. Equally enticing to hitters is "Pesky's Pole," the right-field foul pole named for Sox great Johnny Pesky, which stands only 302 feet from home plate.

Nestled into the Fenway Park neighborhood of Boston, the park was largely rebuilt for the 1934 season after a five-alarm fire destroyed construction underway by new owner Tom Yawkey.

Most recently, Fenway Park has undergone a series of improvements since the Henry-Werner Group purchased the team in 2002. Most visible among them are the addition of the Green Monster Seats in 2003, the Right Field Roof Seats in 2004, the EMC Club and State Street Pavilion in 2006, the Third Base Deck in 2007, an expansion of the State Street Pavilion and addition of the Coca Corner in 2008, improvements to the Right Field Roof Box Seats for 2009. Three new concourses—Yawkey Way (2002), the Big Concourse in right field (2003), and the Third Base Concourse (2004) have provided new amenities, while making Fenway Park far more comfortable for fans by creating space where it seemingly did not exist previously.

A new playing field was installed for the 2005 season. At the same time, the Red Sox clubhouse underwent a massive renovation, including the construction of new state-of-the-art weight, training, rehab and video facilities and the addition of a new batting cage off the tunnel between the clubhouse and the Red Sox dugout. A visitors' batting cage was added on the service level adjacent to the visiting clubhouse in 2007.

The astounding popularity of the ballpark and the team has enabled the Red Sox to set attendance records in each of the last nine seasons, the first team in Major League history to accomplish that feat. En route to drawing 3,046,444 fans, the Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the seventh year in a row and enter 2011 with a 631-game sellout streak, the longest in Major League history.

Hundreds of thousands of fans from all over the globe visit Fenway Park year-round. Tours of the ballpark, conducted in English, Spanish and Japanese, are available daily. For more information, call (617) 226-6666 or log on to www.redsox.com.

WHY FENWAY?

The new ballpark was constructed for the 1912 season and was named by then Red Sox owner John I. Taylor. He said, "It's in the Fenway section of Boston, isn't it? Then call it Fenway Park." It was also Taylor who changed the club's name from Americans to Red Sox prior to the 1908 season.

APRIL 20, 1912: Following an April 9 exhibition victory over Harvard and a pair of rainouts, the Red Sox win the first official game at Fenway, beating the New York Highlanders (who'd later become the Yankees) 7-6 in 11 innings. Tris Speaker drove home the game winner in front of 27,000 fans.

APRIL 26, 1912: First baseman Hugh Bradley hit the first home run at Fenway and the first over the left field wall vs. Philadelphia. It was the second and last home run of his Major League career.

JUNE 21, 1916: Right-handed pitcher George Foster threw the first no-hitter by a Red Sox pitcher at Fenway Park, leading the Red Sox to a 2-0 win over the New York Yankees. Fenway Park's first no-hitter was thrown by the Boston Braves' George Davis in a 7-0 victory over Philadelphia on September 9, 1914.

SEPTEMBER 11, 1918: The Red Sox clinched the 1918 World Series with a 2-1, Game Six victory over the Chicago Cubs. This remains the last championship-clinching victory won by the Red Sox at Fenway Park.

JULY 3, 1932: The Sox are hammered by the Yankees 13-2 in the first Sunday game at Fenway Park. Sunday baseball was approved in Boston three years earlier, but not at Fenway due to its proximity to a church. The Sox played their Sunday games at Braves Field on Commonwealth Avenue until the law was changed. They actually played the first Boston Sunday game, a 7-3 loss to Philadelphia, at Braves Field, April 28, 1929 in front of 22,000 fans (the Braves April 21 game was rained out).

APRIL 21, 1934: Yankees left fielder Babe Ruth became the first opposing player to homer over the new left field wall, going deep in the first inning.

JUNE 9, 1946: Ted Williams hit a monumental 502-foot home run to right field off Detroit right-hander Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, a 56-year-old construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time the bleachers were actual bleachers and not individual seats.

JULY 9, 1946: The Red Sox hosted their first All-Star Game at Fenway Park, a 12-0 American League win. Eight Red Sox were on the All-Star team, but Ted Williams stole the show, going 4-for-4 with two homers, a walk, five RBI and four runs scored.

MAY 12, 1948: The first Red Sox game was televised from Fenway on WBZ-TV .

OCTOBER 4, 1948: The first playoff game in AL history took place at Fenway, and Cleveland rookie left-hander Gene Bearden beat the Red Sox 8-3. Shortstop-Manager Lou Boudreau led the Indians with two homers and two singles. The defeat prevented the only cross-town World Series in Boston history. Cleveland went on to beat the Boston Braves 4-2 in the World Series.

The Red Sox tied the game at 6-6 in the last of the eighth on Bernie Carbo's three-run, pinch-hit homer with two outs taking the win with Carlton Fisk's oft-replayed home run off Pat Darcy leading off the last of the 12th.

JUNE 19, 1977: Carl Yastrzemski hit the longest known home run to the right of the bleachers, an eighth-inning blast off Yankees right-hander Dick Tidrow. The blast traveled approximately 460 feet before striking the facing of the right-field roof. It is the only ball to reach the right-field roof facade.

The game would enter extra innings, before David Ortiz ended the contest on a walk-off home run.

OCTOBER 27, 2004: 86 years of heartache were erased with a 3-0 win in St. Louis, as the Red Sox completed a sweep of the 100th World Series for their first World Championship since 1918. Begining at Fenway Park, a "rolling rally" parade was held three days later when the team returned to Boston.

APRIL 11, 2005: The defending champions received their World Series rings, one by one, on the field, prior to the home opener against the Yankees. Led by Johnny Pesky and Carl Yastrzemski, former players who had longed for such a day helped the active players raise the World Championship flag. James Taylor sang "America the Beautiful," the Boston Symphony and Boston Pops played "The Star-Spangled Banner." Wounded soldiers back from war presented the rings. Boston icons Bobby Orr, Bill Russell, Tedy Bruschi and Richard Seymour threw the Ceremonial First Pitches. And, in fitting style, the Red Sox beat the Yankees.

The Red Sox won their 89th game on the final day of the season and join the Yankees and Phillies as the only Major League teams to compile at least 89 victories in all 4 seasons since 2007...2010 snapped a stretch of 3 straight 90-win seasons for the club beginning in 2007.

Boston has won at least 89 games 10 times in the last 13 years and 32 times in team history...The club has posted 89 or more victories in 6 of Terry Francona's 7 seasons, 3 more than any other Sox skipper.

The Sox finished 3rd in the AL East, their lowest in the standings at year's end since 2006 (3rd, 86-76)...2010 marked the 1st time since 2006 that Boston did not reach the playoffs, snapping a club record-tying, 3-year streak of playoff appearances from 2007-09 (also 2003-05).

THE BREAKDOWN: Boston beat the Yankees at Fenway Park on Opening Night but went on to drop 9 of its next 12 games, including a season-long, 5-game losing streak from 4/15-19, for the club's worst start through 13 contests since going 2-11 in 1996...It pushed the Sox to a season-worst, 5-games below .500 for the 1st time in any season since 1997...Boston's 11-12 record in the 1st month snapped a 13-year streak without a losing April from 1997-2009, which had been the longest current run of its kind by any Major League team.

Beginning with back-to-back, walk-off wins over the Rangers on 4/20 and 4/21, Boston led the Majors with a 45-23 (.662) record through 7/3, including a season-high, 6-game winning streak from 6/15-20...At 49-32 (.605) overall on 7/3, Boston owned the 2nd-best record in baseball, a half-game shy of the Yankees (49-31, .613).

2 other Red Sox rookies also recorded hits in their 1st ML plate appearances in 2010 (Ryan Kalish, 7/31 vs.

DET and Yamaico Navarro, 8/20 vs. TOR)...It marks the 1st time since rookie status was officially defined in 1957 that 3 Red Sox rookies have ever accomplished the feat.

Ryan Kalish belted his 2nd career grand slam on 9/6 vs. TB to become the 3rd player ever to hit 2 slams within 6 weeks of his ML debut, joining 2 other Red Sox: Faye Throneberry in 1952 and Ellis Burks in 1987...The 2 grand slams also tied the Sox rookie record for the 7th time, last by Bob Zupcic in 1992...Kalish's 1st slam came at 22 years, 142 days old on 8/17 vs. LAA, making him the youngest Sox player with a bases-loaded homer since Tony Conigliaro at 20 years, 229 days on 8/24/65...With Kalish's 2 grand slams and Daniel Nava's 1, it was the 1st time Boston had 3 grand slams from rookies since 1992 when Zupcic slugged 2 and John Valentin added 1.

The Red Sox started an all-rookie outfield of Daniel Nava (LF), Ryan Kalish (CF) and Josh Reddick (RF) on 9/13 at SEA for the 1st time since 10/4/87 (Mike Greenwell, LF; Ellis Burks, CF; Todd Benzinger, RF)...On 9/6 vs. TB, the Red Sox started 3 players under the age of 23 (Lars Anderson-22 years, 346 days; Ryan Kalish-22, 162; Yamaico Navarro-22, 310) for the 1st time since Game 2 of a doubleheader on 10/4/80 vs. TOR (Glenn Hoffman-22, 89; Reid Nichols-22, 60; Chico Walker-21, 314)...On 9/15 at SEA, the Sox started 4 players under the age of 24 (Anderson-22 years, 355 days; Kalish-22, 171; Navarro-22, 319; Josh Reddick-23, 208) for the 1st time since 10/2/80 (Rich Gedman-21, 6; Hoffman-22, 87; Nichols-22, 58; Walker-21, 312).

PLAYER HIGHLIGHTS: Clay Buchholz's 2.33 ERA ranked 3rd in the Major Leagues and 2nd in the AL to Felix Hernandez (2.27)...In the live ball era (since 1920), only 4 qualifying Red Sox pitchers have finished a season with a better ERA: Tex Hughson (1944), Luis Tiant (1972), Roger Clemens (1990) and Pedro Martinez (1999-2000, 2002-03)...Buchholz, who turned 26 on 8/14, was the youngest Red Sox hurler with an ERA that low since 1918...He held opponents to a ML-best .161 clip with runners in scoring position and did not allow a home run over 137 at-bats in that situation all season, the most in the ML without surrendering a long ball...He notched a career-high streak of 26.0 scoreless innings from 8/11-28, the longest for a Sox hurler since Pedro Martinez went 35.0 scoreless in 2002, and the longest by an AL starter since Cliff Lee's 27.0-inning run in April 2008.

Tim Wakefield finished his start at Cleveland on 6/8 with 2,777.0 innings pitched in his career with Boston, passing Roger Clemens (2,776.0) for the all-time club record...He finished the year atop that list with 2,851.1 innings pitched in a Red Sox uniform, the most among active hurlers with any single team...Wakefield became the all-time Fenway Park leader with his 201st career start at the ballpark on 7/2, moving past Clemens (200), and his 205 career starts at Fenway lead active hurlers at any single ballpark...With his appearance at 44 years, 46 days old on 9/17, Wakefield passed Carl Yastrzemski (44 years, 41 days, 10/2/83) as the 2nd-oldest player in club history to appear in a game...The only older player was Deacon McGuire at 44 years, 280 days old on 8/24/1908.

Adrian Beltre led the ML with 49 doubles, the 9th-most in team history and 2 shy of Wade Boggs' club mark by a third baseman (51 in 1989)...All 28 of his home runs came as a third baseman, tops in the AL at the position and tied for the 2nd-most ever as a Sox third baseman behind Butch Hobson's 30 in 1977...Beltre's 79 extra-base hits led ML third basemen and passed Boggs (70 in 1987) for the all-time club record at the position.

David Ortiz ranked among AL leaders in homers (T-5th, 32), RBI (T-10th, 102), home run ratio (T-4th, 16.19), RBI ratio (5th, 5.08), walks (9th, 82), intentional walks (T-2nd, 14), on-base percentage (12th, .370), slugging percentage (8th, .529) and extra-base hits (T-9th, 69)...He tied for 3rd in the league with 31 homers beginning 5/1 and tied for 4th with 63 extra-base hits in that time...For Ortiz, it was his 6th-career, 30-homer campaign, all with Boston, tying Manny Ramirez for 2nd in club history after Ted Williams (8)...It was also his 6th 100-RBI season, tied for the 3rd most in club history (also Jimmie Foxx, Bobby Doerr and Manny Ramirez), behind only Ted Williams (9) and Jim Rice (8).

ATTENDANCE: The Red Sox sold out all 81 home games in 2010, finishing with an annual home attendance of 3,046,444...It is the 3rd time in club history, all since 2008, that the Sox have reached the 3-million mark and the 3rd-largest, single-season home attendance ever for the club (3,062,699 in 2009, 3,048,248 in 2008)...Boston has welcomed at least 2 million fans to Fenway Park in each of the last 16 seasons since 1995.

For the 7th year in a row, the Red Sox played to capacity crowds at every home game, running their Major League record streak to 631 consecutive games dating back to 5/15/03...It is the 2nd-longest recorded sellout streak in U.S. professional sports history after the NBA's Portland Trailblazers' 744-game streak from 1977-95.

HISTORY & RECORDS

The American League was formed in 1901, and Boston, Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland are the lone remaining charter members 110 years later. The Boston American League Base Ball Club, officially known as the Americans, but also known by the media as the Pilgrims or Somersets after owner Charles Somers, started their inaugural season on the road April 26 against the Baltimore Orioles (now the New York Yankees), but didn't pick up their 1st win until April 30 in Philadelphia, a 10-inning 8-6 decision pitched by Cy Young. Young also pitched and won the Huntington Avenue Grounds home opener May 8 against Philadelphia, 12-4. In 1903, the team finished in 1st place with a 91-47 record earning themselves a berth in the 1st World Series against the National League Pittsburgh Pirates. Game 1 was played at Huntington Avenue and pitched by Young, who lost but then won 2 games in the Series. The Pilgrims won 5 games to 3, in a best of 9 series, bolstered by their band of fans, the "Royal Rooters" who were known for their rowdy behavior. 1904 brought another successful year for the Pilgrims, with Cy Young pitching the 1st perfect game of the modern era in the Huntington Avenue Grounds against Philadelphia on May 5. With a 95-59 record, the 1904 Americans were set to play the New York Giants in the World Series, but Giants manager John McGraw and owner John Brush refused to play, making this the 1st of only 2 times since 1903 when the World Series was not played. After 1907, the cross-town National League Red Stockings adopted the name "Doves" and changed the team colors from red to blue. Americans owner John I. Taylor snapped up the popular color, and renamed his team the Red Sox. In the latter half of the decade, Young continued to dominate, throwing a no-hitter in New York in 1908 on the way to his record 511 career wins. The Red Sox, however, would not see postseason play again until the next decade.

Taylor decided the Red Sox needed a new ballpark. Fenway Park opened in 1912, and a decade of dynasty began. The new park, named Fenway Park due to location in the Fenway part of Boston, opened April 20, 1912, with the Red Sox taking a 7-6, 11-inning decision from the New York Highlanders (Yankees). With a 105-47 record, the Sox headed for the World Series led by fireballer Smoky Joe Wood's 34-5 record, and centerfielder Tris Speaker's .383 batting average. This time, John McGraw did bring the New York Giants to the World Series, and the Sox defeated them 4 games to 3 with one tie. The Red Sox picked up a young left-handed pitcher in 1914 by the name of George Herman "Babe" Ruth, who would figure prominently in the Red Sox World Series dynasty of the next several years. The Red Sox went to the World Series 3 more times in the teens and won each year. The 1915 Series was marked by the strong hitting and fielding performances of the legendary Sox outfield of Duffy Lewis, Tris Speaker, and Harry Hooper. After dropping Game 1, the Sox won the next 4 to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies for the championship. In 1916, Ruth was the season and Series hero, with a 23-12 regular season record and a 1.75 ERA. In Game 2 of the World Series, Ruth pitched a 14-inning, complete game 2-1 win against the Brooklyn Dodgers, while the Sox went on to take the Series 4 games to 1 for the 2nd straight year. The Red Sox played their World Series games in 1915 and 1916 in the new and larger capacity National League Braves Field on Commonwealth Ave., which held 40,000 fans. In 1918, Ruth extended his streak to 29.2 scoreless World Series innings, a record that stood until 1961, and also tied for the league lead with 11 home runs. In the World Series against the Chicago Cubs, Ruth and Carl Mays each won 2 games to lead the Sox to their 4th World Championship in 7 years.

After Sox owner Harry Frazee sold Ruth and most of his best players to the Yankees, the "Roaring Twenties" were anything but for the Red Sox. The team did not make it to .500 in any year of the decade, losing over 100 games in 3 straight seasons from 1925-1927. To add to the difficulty on the field, the ballpark itself suffered a setback. On May 8, 1926, fire roared through Fenway Park, destroying much of the left field bleacher sections. Then-owner Bob Quinn could not afford to rebuild the sections, and the difficult decade for the Sox continued. All was not gloomy, however, as there were several standout performances by individual players during the decade. Pitcher Sam Jones won 23 games in 1921, and Howard Ehmke won 39 games for the Sox in 1923-1924, including a no-hitter against Philadelphia in 1923. 1st baseman Stuffy McInnis, a member of the 1918 world champion team, set American League fielding records with a .999 fielding pct. in 1921 and still held the Red Sox career fielding pct. record at 1st base (.996) until Kevin Youkilis passed him in 2009.

The 30's brightened for the Red Sox, and though the team did not make it back to the great years of the teens, a new dynasty of ownership began in 1933, when 30-year-old millionaire Tom Yawkey bought the club. His 1st order of business was to rebuild the fire-scarred stadium. Ironically, on the night of January 4, 1934, during construction of the new Fenway Park, another fire raged through the ballpark, destroying much of the progress. The park was ready for Opening Day 1934, however, when the Sox lost to Joe Cronin and his Washington Senators on April 17. The Red Sox fielded far better teams in the 1930's than they had in the decade prior, and also saw attendance figures increase, especially after Fenway was refurbished. On August 12, 1934, 46,766 fans attended Ruth's farewell game at Fenway, spilling out onto the field. The next season, the Sox set their record single-day attendance which still stands, with 47,627 fans attending a doubleheader on September 22 against the Yankees. 1935 also saw shortstop Joe Cronin traded to the Sox from Washington to become player-manager. 1938 was the high point of the decade, with Cronin leading the Sox to an 88-61 record, and MVP Jimmie Foxx hitting 50 home runs, a team record which stood until 2006, with 175 RBI and a league-high .349 average. Veteran Lefty Grove led the league in ERA for 4 of the last 5 years of the decade. 1939 also brought forth a new era in Red Sox baseball, when Ted Williams began his legendary career. That season, the Red Sox had 5 future Hall of Famers on the roster including Williams, Cronin, Foxx, Grove and Bobby Doerr, and they finished with a strong 89-62 record. In 1931, the Red Sox took the field with numbers on their uniforms for the 1st time. For some Red Sox players, these were the numbers that would forever be associated with them as Boston legends.

The 40's got even better for the Red Sox. 1941 was a landmark year for the team, with Williams hitting .406 and Grove picking up his 300th career win. Williams is the last player to hit over .400 for a season, and Grove is 1 of 2 pitchers to get his 300th win as a Red Sox, the other being Cy Young. Williams continued his consistent hitting by picking up his 1st Triple Crown in 1942, and his 2nd of 4 batting titles in the 40's. Rookie Dave Ferriss was 21-10 in 1945, and helped the team return to the World Series in 1946 when he was 25-6. The Sox won the pennant by a comfortable 12-game margin in 1946, winning 104 games in the process, but lost the World Series for the 1st time in franchise history to the St. Louis Cardinals in 7 games. Fenway also played host to the 1946 All-Star Game, in which Williams went 4-for-4 with 2 home runs and 5 RBI. Coming off the AL pennant year, Williams won a 2nd Triple Crown in 1947. Lights were also installed that season to start the era of night baseball at Fenway. 1948 and 1949 were both tough seasons for the Red Sox. While collecting 96 wins in each year, they finished both seasons 1 game out of 1st place. They lost a 1-game playoff to the Cleveland Indians in 1948. Had the Sox won that game, they would have played the Boston Braves in the World Series. In 1949, they lost the final 2 games of the season in Yankee Stadium to finish 1 game behind the Yankees. The Sox teams of the late 40's were led by pitcher Mel Parnell who won 25 games and the ERA title in 1949, while Ellis Kinder also picked up 23 victories in 1949. By the end of the 1940's, however, Williams had clearly established himself as one of the greatest players in baseball. He had played 8 seasons of Major League baseball through 1949, during which time he amassed 2 MVPs, 2 Triple Crowns, 4 RBI titles (1 tied with teammate Vern Stephens), 4 home run titles, and 4 batting titles. Dom DiMaggio, one of baseball's greatest centerfielders, had a .298 career average, scored 100 runs 7 times, was a 7-time All-Star and led the AL in 1950 with 11 triples, 15 stolen bases, and 131 runs scored. In 1948, he had 503 putouts, playing in the AL's smallest park, a record that stood until 1977. He is 1 of only 5 outfielders to have 500 putouts in a season.

Johnny Pesky, an excellent all-around shortstop, had 200 hits in each of his 1st 3 ML seasons, and had a .313 career average for the Red Sox. The decade, overall, was the most successful for the team since the teens.

The 50's were another decade of strong hitting for the Sox, starting off with the Rookie of the Year Award-winning performance by 1st baseman Walter Dropo in 1950. Walter was a part of perhaps the best hitting Red Sox team ever, with the starting lineup averaging .313, and the entire team hitting .302. Infielder Billy Goodman won the batting championship in 1950 with his .354 average, while the team amassed a 94-60 record, which would ultimately be their best for the decade. Williams broke his elbow in the All-Star Game and played in only 89 games (28 HR, 97 RBI). For the 2nd time in his career, Williams put off baseball for military service in the Korean War in 1951 and 1952, after serving 3 years during World War II. Upon his return, he continued his usual impressive hitting with a tremendous league-leading .388 in 1957 with 38 home runs, and winning a 2nd straight title with a .328 average at the age of 40 in 1958. Meanwhile, Jackie Jensen won the RBI title in 1955 (tied), 1958 and 1959, and the MVP in 1958. Rookie 3rd baseman Frank Malzone joined the team full-time in 1957 and won 3 Gold Glove Awards in 1957, 1958, and 1959. Some Red Sox pitchers also fared well in the 1950's, as Parnell continued his successful pitching through the 1st half of the decade, winning 69 games for the Sox from 1950 to 1953 along with a no-hitter in 1956. Frank Sullivan had 90 wins from 1954 to 1960, and Ellis Kinder became one of the American League's best relief pitchers of the early 1950's. On July 21, 1959 infielder Pumpsie Green made his debut as the 1st Red Sox African-American Major Leaguer.

The end of the 50's also brought the end of the Williams era in Red Sox history. Never one to go out quietly, Williams hit his 521st and final home run into the Red Sox bullpen in his final at-bat on September 28, 1960. The spot he vacated in left field was filled in 1961 by rookie Carl Yastrzemski who would later match some of Williams' feats, while pitcher Don Schwall would collect Rookie of the Year Pitcher honors after winning his 1st 10 straight decisions at Fenway on the way to a 15-7 record overall. Fenway Park also hosted the 1961 All-Star Game, only the 2nd such game in the park's 50-year history. Sox pitching heroics continued in 1962 when both Earl Wilson and Bill Monbouquette tossed no-hitters, while Monbouquette went on to win 20 games in 1963, and Yaz won his 1st batting title. Dave Morehead would also throw a no-hitter on September 16, 1965 against Cleveland at Fenway Park, but the Sox had their worst record of that decade, losing 100 games overall. One bright spot of 1965 was the emergence of Lynn, MA native Tony Conigliaro, who hit a league-leading 32 homers in his 2nd season, the 2nd of his 6 consecutive seasons of 20 or more home runs. After another losing season, finishing 9th in 1966, the Red Sox overcame 100-1 odds and won the "Impossible Dream" pennant in 1967 with a 92-70 record. Though they did not win the World Series, that season lives on as one of the greatest in Red Sox history. 1967 proved to be career years for Jim Lonborg, won the Cy Young Award with a 22-9 record plus 2 World Series wins, and Yastrzemski, who won the Triple Crown and MVP. 1st baseman George Scott and outfielder Reggie Smith were key performers in the Red Sox pennant drive. Ken Harrelson led the league with 109 RBI in 1968, while Yaz won his 3rd batting title. Yaz and Rico Petrocelli finished the 60's with 40-home run seasons in 1969, ready to lead the Sox into the next decade.

The era of Yaz continued into the 70's while he again hit 40 home runs and led younger players, such as Conigliaro, who notched 36 home runs in 1970. In 1972, another young player made his mark by unanimously winning the Rookie of the Year Award. Catcher Carlton Fisk, a New Hampshire native, made his 1st full year in the Majors count, leading the Red Sox to a 2nd-place finish, just 0.5 game out of 1st place, for their best finish since 1967. His batterymate, Luis Tiant, thrilled Sox fans and took home the ERA title that season. Two other famous rookies, Jim Rice and Fred Lynn, were added to the mix in 1975, and made their mark on another AL championship season. Lynn won both MVP and Rookie of the Year honors, the 1st player ever to do so in the same year, while Rice hit 22 home runs and Lynn hit 21. Tiant, Rick Wise, and Bill Lee combined for 54 of the Red Sox 95 wins in 1975, with Tiant and Wise pitching all 3 of the Red Sox wins in the World Series. In Game 6, Bernie Carbo's 2-out, 3-run home run in the 8th inning tied the game. Fisk left his mark on baseball history during that game when he hit a 12th-inning pitch off the left field foul pole for a dramatic finish for the Red Sox, in what many consider to be the greatest World Series game ever. Once again, however, the Sox came up short, and were defeated by Cincinnati in 7 games. On July 9, 1976 owner Tom Yawkey passed away. Mrs. Jean R. Yawkey, Haywood Sullivan and Edward "Buddy" LeRoux were approved by the AL as the new owners in May, 1978. The Sox continued to be successful through the end of the 1970's. In 1977 they had 97 wins and finished just 2.5 games out of 1st. They finished 1978 with 99 wins, just 1 game out after losing 5-4 in a 1-game playoff against the Yankees. Those 2 seasons were great years for Rice, who won the home run title in 1977, and took home MVP honors in 1978, after ending the season with the home run and RBI crowns. Lynn had a terrific 1979 season and won the batting championship, while Yaz got his 3,000th hit on September 12. That July, he also hit his 400th home run. Dwight Evans also did his part, not only with his bat, but also in right field, picking up 3 Gold Glove Awards in the last 4 seasons of the decade. Versatile Bob Stanley made his entry upon the scene in 1977, and in his 12-year Red Sox career racked up what was then a club-record 132 saves and became the club's all-time leader in games pitched. Shortstop Rick Burleson teamed with 2nd baseman and Fall River, MA native Jerry Remy to form one of the club's best double play combinations.

3rd baseman Carney Lansford won a batting championship in 1981. Evans tied for the 1981 AL home run title, one of his seven 20-plus HR seasons in the decade. Rice won the HR title in 1983 with 39, followed closely by Tony Armas, who had 36. Armas then hit 43 in 1984 to lead the AL. The early 80's were not particularly successful for the Red Sox as a team, however, and they failed to finish higher than 3rd until their AL championship in 1986. Evans got 1986 off to an auspicious start, homering in Detroit on the 1st pitch of the season. Roger Clemens, who won the Cy Young and MVP awards, dominated AL batters in 1986, winning 24 games in a row, including his 1st 14 decisions, with a 2.48 ERA. He also broke a Major League record, striking out 20 in a 3-1 win April 29 vs. Seattle. Under manager John McNamara's leadership, the team won 95 games and came from a 3 games to 1 deficit in the ALCS to a World Series matchup with the Mets, which the Sox lost in 7 games. Overall, the season was filled with many personal milestones, with Rice getting his 2,000th hit, Don Baylor hitting his 300th HR, Clemens winning 20 games for the 1st time, and Wade Boggs winning his 3rd of 5 batting titles in the decade. In 1987, Boggs won another batting title, while Clemens had his 2nd 20-win season and Cy Young Award, but the Red Sox finished a disappointing 5th. The Red Sox returned to their winning ways in the late '80s, topping the AL East again in 1988 with Joe Morgan's miracle team. After Morgan took over from McNamara in July, the Sox won 12 straight and 19 of 20 games, to come from 9 games behind and move into 1st place in the AL East. "Morgan's Magic" became the team's slogan, but the Red Sox were overpowered by Oakland in the ALCS. Nevertheless, the successful teams of the late 80's ushered in a decade of milestones and achievements in the 1990's.

The Sox started the decade off on the right foot by winning the AL East in 1990 with strong performances by Boggs, Evans, Clemens, Mike Boddicker, and rightfielder Tom Brunansky, whose great diving catch saved the final game of the season. Again, the Sox played the A's in the ALCS, and met the same fate, losing in 4 games. The 1990 season saw the Red Sox put players' names on the back of their road jerseys for the 1st time in club history. 1991 brought the start of the Mo Vaughn era, and the hard-hitting 1st baseman became a fan favorite, while Dalton, MA native Jeff Reardon pitched his way to 40 saves as the Sox headed to a 2nd-place finish. In February 1992, Mrs. Yawkey passed away leaving her majority general partnership to the continued direction of John L. Harrington with Haywood C. Sullivan as general partner. After the 1993 season, Sullivan sold his interest in the club to the Yawkey Trust and Harrington became CEO of the organization. The Sox fared well after the new division set-up was established in 1995, reaching postseason play 3 times in the last 5 years of the decade, including back-to-back appearances in 1998 and 1999, the 1st time the team had accomplished that since 1915-1916. In 1995, the Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians started a Division Series rivalry that would last throughout the decade. Behind the powerful hitting of Vaughn, who led the AL in HR and picked up the MVP Award, and the stable pitching of Clemens and knuckleballer Tim Wakefield, the Sox won the East Division title and battled the Indians in the 1995 ALDS, only to be swept in 3 games. In 1996, Clemens struck out 20 batters in a game for the 2nd time in his career, tying his own Major League record. In 1997, highly-touted shortstop Nomar Garciaparra made his way to Fenway and picked up the Rookie of the Year Award while leading the league with 209 hits. In 1998, he was joined by another superstar, Pedro Martinez. The '98 Sox won the Wild Card for the 1st time. Strong pitching was the key to the team's success with Martinez going 19-7 with a 2.89 ERA, while Tom Gordon achieved a Major League record 43 consecutive saves on his way to 46 saves in all. The Sox faced Cleveland in the Division Series, where they were defeated once again. The pitching would figure into another great season for the Sox in 1999, a year in which Fenway hosted the final All-Star Game of the century, the 3rd in the history of the park. Martinez was MVP of the game, retiring all 6 batters he faced, 5 on strikeouts, ultimately winning the Cy Young Award unanimously, and falling just short of MVP honors with a 23-4, 2.07 ERA season. Once again, he led the Sox to a Wild Card berth and the Division Series against the Indians. This time, the Sox emerged victorious, coming back from losing the 1st two games to dramatically win the series behind six no-hit relief innings by Martinez and 2 HR and 7 RBI by Troy O'Leary, and traveled to the ALCS for the 1st time since 1986. The Sox met the Yankees in the series, and the high point was game 3, where Sox ace Martinez met former Sox ace Clemens at Fenway Park. Riding HR by Garciaparra, John Valentin and Brian Daubach, the Sox cruised to a 13-1 win, their only win in the series.

2000 featured great performances by Martinez, who unanimously won his 2nd straight Cy Young Award, and Garciaparra, who won his 2nd consecutive AL batting title with a .372 average. Reliever Derek Lowe tied for the league lead with 42 saves. The Sox finished 2nd with an 85-77 record, just 2.5 games behind the Yankees, and set a new Fenway Park attendance record of 2,586,024. On December 13, 2000, the Red Sox signed outfielder Manny Ramirez to bolster the team's offense into the new millennium. Despite major injuries to Garciaparra, Martinez, John Valentin and catcher Jason Varitek, the Red Sox led the AL East for most of the 1st half in 2001. Through August 24, the Sox were still only 3 games behind the Yankees before they went into a tailspin that resulted in 21 losses in the next 26 games and finished 2nd with an 82-79 record. Manager Jimy Williams was replaced by pitching coach Joe Kerrigan prior to the August 16 game vs. Seattle. RHP Hideo Nomo made his Sox debut April 4 in Baltimore and won 3-0 with the club's 1st no-hitter since 1965. Nomo pitched a 1-hitter May 25 vs. Toronto and led the AL with 220 strikeouts. The team set new attendance records at home, 2,625,333 in 81 dates with 69 sellouts and 2,700,811 on the road in 80 dates. The 68-year Yawkey era came to a close when a new ownership group led by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino took control prior to the 2002 season. In March of 2002, the new ownership replaced General Manager Dan Duquette with Vice President of Baseball Operations Mike Port, on an interim basis, and brought in Grady Little as manager to replace Kerrigan. The Sox led the AL East from April 15-June 22 and ultimately finished 2nd in the AL East at 93-69, including 51-30 on the road. Lowe pitched Fenway Park's 1st no-hitter since 1965 when he blanked Tampa Bay 10-0 on April 27. Lowe (21-8) and Martinez (20-4) gave the Sox a pair of 20-game winners for the 1st time since 1949. Ramirez led the AL with a .349 average. Lowe, Martinez, Ramirez, Garciaparra, Shea Hillenbrand, Johnny Damon and Ugueth Urbina were selected for the AL All-Star team and Lowe, Hillenbrand and Ramirez started the game. The team again set an attendance record (2,650,063 in 81 dates). On November 25, 2002, Theo Epstein was named General Manager, making him the youngest GM in MLB history at 28 years, 10 months old. The 2003 Red Sox had an exciting 95-67 regular season, their most wins since 1995, a 2nd-place East Division finish and the 16th trip to the postseason. The club won its 3rd Wild Card playoff berth and came from a 2-0 game deficit in the ALDS to win 3 straight and eliminate Oakland to advance to the ALCS vs. the Yankees. A dramatic 7-game series developed that wasn't resolved until Aaron Boone's 11th-inning HR stopped the Red Sox' World Series bid. Epstein made some astute off-season moves to help the team become an offensive powerhouse that set many club, American League and Major League records. The additions of David Ortiz, Kevin Millar, Bill Mueller and Todd Walker solidified a batting order that produced 961 runs, 2nd-most in club history. A club-record 6 players hit 20 HR and the Sox set a new team mark with 238. They set new ML records of 2,822 total bases, 649 extra-base hits and a .491 slugging pct., while their 371 doubles fell 2 shy of the ML mark held by the Sox (1997) and the Cardinals (1930). They were 53-28 .654 at home, 2nd best in the AL. Lowe (17-7), Martinez (14-4), John Burkett (12-9) and Wakefield (11-7) led a staff whose 1,141 strikeouts topped the AL. Mueller (.326) edged Ramirez (.325) for the AL batting crown while Garciaparra (105), Ramirez (104) and Ortiz (101) gave the Sox 3 players with 100 RBI for the 1st time since 1984. It was the Sox' 4th straight season with a new home attendance figure, 2,724,162. In his 1st year as manager, Terry Francona led the 2004 Red Sox to a 98-64 record and a Wild Card berth, entering the postseason for the 17th time in franchise history. The Sox swept the Anaheim Angels in the ALDS as Ortiz's dramatic HR in the 10th inning of game 3 ensured a rematch with the Yankees for the AL pennant. After dropping the 1st 3 games to New York, the Red Sox rallied behind the bat of Ortiz, the baserunning of Dave Roberts, an RBI single by Mueller, an airtight bullpen, and the gritty performance of Curt Schilling to win the final 4 games of the series, completing the greatest comeback in ML history. The Red Sox then swept the St. Louis Cardinals to win the World Series for the 6th time in franchise history, and the 1st since 1918. Led by Series MVP Ramirez, the Red Sox never trailed. Lowe became the 1st pitcher ever to win the clinching game of 3 playoff series in 1 postseason. Key off-season acquisitions Schilling and Keith Foulke lived up to their billing, while the mid-season trade of Garciaparra for Orlando Cabrera, Doug Mientkiewicz, and the separate acquisition of Roberts, improved the club's defense and speed and added depth to the bench. Schilling (21) combined with Martinez (16) to win more games than any other pair in the AL. Martinez (227) and Schilling (203) also became the 1st Red Sox teammates ever to strike out 200 batters in the same season. Offensively, the Sox were led by Ramirez and Ortiz, who became the 1st AL teammates to bat .300, hit 30 HRs and drive in 100 runs since 1931. They also became just the 2nd pair of Red Sox to hit over 40 HRs in a single season. The Red Sox sold out their entire 81-game home schedule for the 1st time in franchise history and 4th time in ML history. In his 2nd year as manager, Francona led the 2005 Red Sox to a 95-67 record, winning the AL Wild Card and securing a postseason berth for a club-record 3rd straight season. Despite topping 90 wins for the 4th year in a row, the Sox were swept in the Division Series by the eventual World Champion Chicago White Sox. During the regular season, Ortiz (47 HR and 148 RBI) and Ramirez (45 HR and 144 RBI) paced the club, combining for 92 home runs and 292 RBI, more than any other duo in baseball. Behind them, the Red Sox led the ML in runs scored, batting average, walks, on-base pct. and OPS. Ortiz tallied career-highs in HR, RBI, runs scored, walks, slugging pct. and on-base pct. He continued to deliver in the clutch, leading the AL with 34 go-ahead RBI and 21 game-winning RBI and finished 2nd in AL MVP voting. The pitching staff was led by Wakefield (16-12) who posted team highs in wins, starts, innings pitched, strikeouts, complete games and opponents' average by a starter. Mike Timlin anchored the bullpen with a league-high and single-season club record 81 appearances, and rookie Jonathan Papelbon was impressive down the stretch holding opponents scoreless in 10 of his last 11 appearances. Catcher Jason Varitek earned his first Gold Glove Award. The club set a new attendance mark for the 6th straight season with a total of 2,847,888. On November 25, 2005, 3B Mike Lowell, RHP Josh Beckett, and RHP Guillermo Mota were acquired from the Florida Marlins in a trade for SS Hanley Ramirez, RHP Anibal Sanchez, RHP Jesus Delgado, and RHP Harvey Garcia. In 2006, the Red Sox set a home attendance record (2,930,588) for the 7th straight season, a ML record. A host of late-season injuries contributed to the team falling to an 86-76 record. The team missed postseason play for the 1st time since 2002. The Red Sox were 53-33 .616 at the All-Star break, its best winning percentage at that point since 1986 (56-31 .644), and led the AL East by 3 games. Boston set a ML fielding pct. record (.98910) (SEA .98887, 2003) with just 66 errors in 6,053 total chances. The 66 errors and 108 errorless games were the 2nd fewest ever behind Seattle's 65 and 112 in 2003. The Red Sox set a ML record with 17 straight errorless games June 11 (night) through June 30. Alex Gonzalez led AL shortstops with a .985 fielding pct. (a club record), the 1st Sox SS to lead the AL since Rick Burleson in 1979. He also set a club SS record with 57 straight errorless games (April 11-June 30). 2B Mark Loretta was 2nd in the AL with a .994 fielding pct. and broke the club record (Bobby Doerr .993 in 1948). Lowell was 2nd among AL and ML 3B with a .98704 fielding pct. and broke the club record (Vern Stephens .981 in 1950). Ortiz led the AL with a club-record 54 HR and also led with 137 RBI, 355 TB and 119 BB. His 32 road HR tied Babe Ruth (1927) for the AL record. He had 5 walk-off hits including 3 HR. Papelbon became 1 of the ML's most dominant closers until shoulder problems sidelined him after Sept. 1. He had 35 saves and a 4-2 record in 59 relief appearances and held opponents to a .167 batting average. He was the 2nd Sox rookie pitcher selected for the All-Star Game (Don Schwall 1961) but did not pitch. He set a club record with 20 saves in 20 chances to start the season. Manny Ramirez hit .321 with 35 HR, 102 RBI and 100 BB but played in just 11 games the final 6 weeks due to right knee tendinitis. He received the most votes of any AL player to start the All-Star Game but his knee problem prevented him from playing. Schilling made a comeback from his injury-curtailed 2005 season and was 15-7 with a 3.97 ERA in 31 games. Kevin Youkilis became the regular 1B and hit .279 in 147 games with 100 R and 91 BB. Beckett was 16-11 in 33 games to lead the staff in wins in his 1st Red Sox season. In 2007, the Red Sox clinched their 1st AL East Division Championship since 1995 with a 96-66 regular season record. After sweeping the Angels 3-0 in the AL Division Series, Boston then went down 3 games to 1 in the ALCS against Cleveland. The Red Sox completed another comeback to clinch their 12th AL pennant and became the 12th team in ML history to overcome a 3-1 deficit in the ALCS This was also the Sox 3rd time accomplishing the feat (1986, 2004). In their 11th World Series appearance, Boston swept the N.L. Champion Colorado Rockies to win their 2nd title in 4 years and 7th overall. The Red Sox offense was led by World Series MVP Lowell and the stellar pitching efforts of Beckett, Schilling and Papelbon. Francona became the 1st Sox manager to take a team to the postseason in 3 different seasons (2004-05-07) and only the 2nd manager in club history to win 2 World Series (Bill Carrigan, 1915-16). The Sox joined the New York Yankees as the only teams in AL history to sweep in successive World Series appearances. During the regular season, the 96 wins tied Cleveland for the highest winning percentage (.593) and most victories in the Major Leagues. The Red Sox led the AL East for the final 166 days of 2007 beginning April 18, the longest consecutive stretch in club history. The Red Sox pitching staff led the AL and finished 2nd in the Majors with a 3.87 ERA. They were 1 of 2 Major League teams with 3 15-game winners: Beckett 20, Wakefield 18, and Daisuke Matsuzaka 15. The team allowed the fewest runs (657) and hits (1350) in the AL and had the 3rd most strikeouts (1,149). Offensively, the 2007 Red Sox led the Majors with 689 walks and tied Detroit for the ML lead in doubles (352). The team had 3 of the top 10 AL batting leaders for 2007: Ortiz (.333, 5th), Lowell (.326, 7th), and Rookie of the Year Dustin Pedroia (.317, 10th). They set a club record and tied the ML record with 4 consecutive HR in 1 inning on April 22 vs. the Yankees at Fenway Park as Ramirez, J.D. Drew, Lowell, and Varitek did it with 2 out in the 3rd inning. The Red Sox were successful on an AL best 80% (96-120) of their stolen base attempts, the highest percentage in club history. The team also finished 2nd in the AL with a .986 fielding percentage led by the outstanding defensive play of 1B Youkilis. The 2007 Gold Glove winner handled a Red Sox record 1,586 straight errorless chances at 1st base (1,079 chances in 2007). Clay Buchholz became just the 3rd player in ML history to throw a no-hitter in his 1st or 2nd Major League start on September 1, 2007 (his second try). The 2008 Red Sox began their World Series title defense on March 25, 2008 in Tokyo, Japan vs. the Oakland A's. The club finished with a 95-67 regular season record (.586)

to clinch their 6th AL Wild Card berth. It marked the 5th time in 6 seasons the Red Sox had qualified for the postseason. After defeating the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim 3 games to 1 in the 2008 ALDS, Boston lost the ALCS to Tampa in 7 games. The offense finished 3rd in the ML with a .280 team batting average and led the Majors in walks for the 2nd consecutive year at 646 and also finished 1st with a .358 on-base pct. The Red Sox were sparked by the stellar play of AL MVP Pedroia who led the team in average, games, at-bats, runs, hits and doubles. His 54 doubles led the AL, he tied for the league lead with 213 hits and ranked among the top 5 with a .326 avg. (2nd), 653 AB (3rd), 9 SF (T3rd), 140 singles (T3rd) and 322 TB (4th). Youkilis had a ML record 238 consecutive errorless games (2,002 TC) streak, which ended on June 7, and also led the team in HR, RBI, slugging and on-base pct. Youkilis finished 3rd in the AL MVP voting. The team sent 7 players to the 2008 All-Star Game: Ramirez, Ortiz, Youkilis and Pedroia were elected starters; Varitek, Papelbon, and All-Star Game MVP Drew were reserves. A 3-team trade deadline deal sent Ramirez to the LA Dodgers and brought OF Jason Bay to the Red Sox from Pittsburgh. Bay was instrumental in the late-season playoff push as he hit .293 (54-184) with 54 RBI and 9 HR over 49 games for Boston. Three Red Sox stole over 20 bases: league leader Jacoby Ellsbury (50), Coco Crisp (20) and Pedroia (20). The club finished 4th in the AL with a 4.01 team ERA and led the ML with 16 shutouts. The pitching staff was 1st in the AL with 1,185 strikeouts, 2nd most in team history (1,259 in 2001). Matsuzaka led all starters with an 18-3 record and 2.90 ERA. Papelbon continued his role as a premier closer saving 41 games. Jon Lester threw the 18th no-hitter in Red Sox history vs. KC on May 19 at Fenway Park. For the 9th consecutive year, the Red Sox established a new club record for home attendance totalling 3,048,248 fans at 81 games, an accomplishment unprecedented in MLB. The Red Sox streak of consecutive sellouts was up to a ML record 469 games. The 2009 Red Sox finished 2nd in the AL East at 95-67 (.586), their 12th straight winning record. Boston won its 7th AL Wild Card, 4 more than any other team. It was the 20th overall playoff appearance in the team's 109-year history. The Red Sox postseason ended early in the ALDS after the Angels swept the series in 3 games. The Sox finished 4th in the AL with a .270 team batting average and were 2nd with a .454 slugging pct. and a .352 on-base pct. Red Sox starting pitchers led the AL with 791 strikeouts. The staff was 2nd overall in the AL with 1,230 strikeouts. The team's .986 fielding percentage was 3rd-best in the league. The Red Sox collected 126 stolen bases on the season, the club's highest single-season total since the 1916 Red Sox stole 129. The team had 6 All-Stars (Bay, Beckett, Papelbon, Pedroia, Wakefield and Youkilis). The club acquired C/1B Victor Martinez from the Cleveland Indians for RHP Justin Masterson, LHP Nick Hagadone and RHP Bryan Price at the trade deadline, July 31. Martinez logged a 25-game hit streak from Aug. 28-Sept. 26 (.340 34-for-100). Beckett and Lester combined as the only pair of AL teammates with 15 wins, 200 innings and a sub-4.00 ERA. Ellsbury led the Majors with a club-record 70 steals. Ortiz finished the year with 274 career HR as a DH surpassing Frank Thomas (269) for the all-time lead in that category. Papelbon's 155 career saves passed Bob Stanley's club-record 132 saves. Wakefield also topped the Red Sox career starts list with 388 over Roger Clemens (382). For the 10th straight year, the Red Sox set a new club record for home attendance, an accomplishment unprecedented in MLB. At the end of the season, Fenway Park's consecutive sellout streak had increased to 550 games.

The 2010 Red Sox finished 3rd in the AL East at 89-73 (.549), their 13th consecutive winning season. The Sox offense ranked among MLB's best in several categories: 1st in TB (2546), 2B (358) and OPS (.790); 2nd in runs scored (818), HR (211) and slugg. pct. (.451); and T-3rd in on-base pct. (.339). Red Sox pitchers led the AL with 1,207 strikeouts. Buchholz and Lester anchored the staff as the only pair of teammates in baseball to win 17 or more games and compile ERAs below 4.00. They each won AL Pitcher of the Month honors in 2010 (May and August, respectively), becoming the 6th pair of Red Sox teammates to win the award in the same season, and the 1st such pair since 2002. Ortiz captured AL Player of the Month honors in May (after hitting .363 with 10 HR in the month), making Lester and Ortiz the 3rd pair of Sox teammates to win the awards in the same month. Ortiz led all Boston hitters with 32 HR and tied for the team RBI lead with Adrian Beltre (102 each). 6 Red Sox made the AL All-Star team (Beltre, Buchholz, Lester, Martinez, Ortiz, and Pedroia). Wakefield recorded his 2,000th career strikeout on May 12 vs. Toronto, then became the club's all-time innings pitched leader during his June 8 start at Cleveland. On August 3 vs. the Indians, Lowell made his 1st plate appearance at Fenway Park in over a month and hit a HR into the Green Monster seats. At the end of the season, Lowell announced his retirement and received a send-off from a grateful Fenway crowd and his Red Sox teammates before the team's October 2 game vs. New York. As injuries mounted, several newcomers contributed: rookie Daniel Nava hit a grand slam on June 12 vs. Philadelphia on the 1st pitch he saw in the ML, becoming the 3rd player since 1900 to hit a GS in his 1st ML plate appearance. On April 20 vs. Texas, Darnell McDonald clubbed an 8th-inning, pinch-hit HR in his 1st Red Sox at-bat, then drove a walk-off, game-winning hit off the Green Monster one inning later. Despite missing Beckett, Buchholz, Mike Cameron, Ellsbury, Martinez, Pedroia, Varitek and Youkilis for extended stretches, the Sox remained in the race throughout the summer, battling in the only division in baseball with four 85-plus win teams. On July 18, Fenway Park celebrated its 600th consecutive sellout, the longest streak in MLB history and the 2nd-longest in U.S. pro sports history, trailing only the Portland Trailblazers (744 consecutive sellouts, 1977-95). Going into the 2011 season, Fenway Park's consecutive sellout streak stood at 631 games.

1901-02 Charles W. Somers of Ohio was one of the founders and financiers of the new American League who also owned the Cleveland team and made his fortune in the lumber and coal business.

1903-04 Henry J. Killilea was a Milwaukee lawyer and expert on baseball law who played an important role in the negotiations that ended the National League-American League war in early 1903.

1904-11 John I. Taylor was an avid sportsman and son of the owner, publisher and editor of The Boston Globe. He changed the team's nickname to "Red Sox" in 1907 and oversaw the land acquisition and construction of Fenway Park, which opened in 1912.

1912-13 James R. McAleer was a National League outfielder during the 1890s who came out of retirement to help form the new American League's St. Louis franchise in 1901 as a player-manager. In December 1911 he bought 50 percent of the Red Sox from Taylor and was named club president.

1914-16 Joseph J. Lannin was a Canadian-born hotel and real estate tycoon in New York and Boston. He was a zealous baseball fan with a minority share in the National League Boston Braves before he purchased McAleer's 50 percent controlling interest in the Red Sox in early 1914.

1917-23 Harry H. Frazee was a long-time flamboyant baseball fan who was born in Peoria, IL and became successful in real estate management, stock brokerage and as a Broadway theatrical producer. He purchased the Red Sox in late 1916 from Lannin in a deal that included Fenway Park.

1923-33 J.A. Robert Quinn was a career baseball executive who was business manager of the St.Louis Browns prior to putting together a syndicate that puchased the Red Sox from Frazee August 1, 1923. He was appointed team president and presiding owner.

1933 Thomas A. Yawkey was a New York entrepreneur who bought the team February 25, 1933, four days after his 30th birthday, and placed the club in a Trust.

July 9, 1976 Tom Yawkey died leaving his widow, Jean, as the primary beneficiary.

1978 The Yawkey Estate sold the team to a partnership including Jean R. Yawkey, Edward G. (Buddy) LeRoux, Jr. and Haywood C. Sullivan. The sale was approved by the American League May 23, 1978.

1981 Jean R. Yawkey moved to Boston, established the Jean R. Yawkey Trust, and transferred team ownership interests to it. She appointed John L. Harrington as co-Trustee.

1987 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust bought out Edward G. (Buddy) LeRoux, Jr., giving it two out of three General Partner votes.

1992 Jean R. Yawkey died in February and the Jean R. Yawkey Trust continued with John Harrington as Trustee with sole authority over Red Sox matters.

1993 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust bought out Haywood C. Sullivan's one General Partnership unit, giving it all three General Partnership units of the Red Sox, along with the three Red Sox limited partnership units previously acquired (53.49 %).

2002 The Jean R. Yawkey Trust sold the club to a group led by John Henry, Tom Werner and Larry Lucchino December 20, 2001. The sale was approved by Major League Baseball January 16, 2002 and closed February 27, 2002.

ALL-TIME RED SOX ROSTER

1,625 players have appeared in at least 1 game for the Red Sox since the team joined the American League in 1901.

TONY CONIGLIARO AWARD

In 1990 the Red Sox instituted a national award to honor the memory of their former star outfielder Tony Conigliaro. The award is presented to a Major Leaguer who has overcome adversity through the attributes of spirit, determination and courage that were trademarks of Tony C. A special panel composed of the media, members of the MLB office, Tony's brothers Billy and Richie, and a fan make the selection. The presentation takes place at the Boston BBWA dinner in January.

The 1st winner was Royals OF Jim Eisenreich, who overcame a neurological movement disorder, Tourette Syndrome, to become a productive performer after being out of baseball for 2 1/2 years. Bret Saberhagen, as a Red Sox, won the honor in 1998. He had reconstructive surgery in May 1996 after months of intensive rehab proved futile. He missed the 1996 season and was signed in Nov. '96 by the Red Sox. He made his 1st start in 2 years on Aug. 22, 1997. In 1998 Saberhagen went 15-8, 3.96 in 31 starts. Marlins' 3B Mike Lowell won in 1999. He underwent testicular cancer surgery Feb. 19 but returned to baseball May 29. He became the Marlins regular 3B and hit 12 HR with 47 RBI in 97 games. The 2006 winner was INF Freddy Sanchez of the Pirates. Sanchez was born with a club right foot and a severely pigeon-toed left foot. The initial medical opinion was that he might never be able to walk. He was Boston's 11th round choice in the 2000 June draft. He played 2002-03 with Boston and was traded to Pittsburgh July 31, 2003. In 2005, his 1st full ML season, Sanchez hit .291 for the Pirates and then led the N.L. at .344 in 157 games in 2006. Red Sox LHP Jon Lester was the 2007 award recipient. After undergoing treatment for anaplastic large cell lymphoma, which was diagnosed in August, 2006, and being declared cancer-free that December, Lester returned to the Major Leagues on July 23, 2007. He went 4-0 in 12 apps/11 starts the rest of the season. He made 2 relief appearances in the 2007 ALCS including 3.0 scoreless IP in a Game 4 loss. Jon started and won the decisive WS Game 4 (5.2 scoreless IP) at Colorado as the Red Sox won their 2nd WS title in 4 seasons. The 2010 winner was RH relief pitcher Joaquin Benoit of Tampa Bay. He missed all of 2009 due to rotator cuff surgery. He signed with TB, began the season at AAA Durham and was called up Apr. 29. He went on to become one of the best middle relievers in the A.L. over 63 appearances with a 1.34 ERA.

Conigliaro died 2/24/1990 after an 8-year struggle to return from a massive heart attack that left him severely handicapped. Tony signed with the Red Sox in 1963 after graduation from St. Mary's High School in Lynn, MA. In his only minor league season he hit .363 with 24 HR and 74 RBI in 83 games for Wellsville, earning New York-Penn League MVP Rookie of the Year honors. He broke in with the Red Sox in 1964, hit a HR in his 1st at-bat at Fenway Park, and finished with a .290 average and 24 HR to earn an All-Rookie selection. Tony became the youngest player to lead a ML in HR when he hit 32 in 1965 and the youngest AL player to reach 100 career HR. Mel Ott was the youngest in history at 22 years, 4 months and 10 days. Tony was 2nd-youngest (22 years, 6 months and 16 days). His career was tragically shortened when he was hit in the face by a pitch at Fenway Park 8/18/1967. He made a dramatic comeback in 1969, hit 56 HR with 198 RBI in 2 years, but he was never the same player. Conigliaro spent 1971 with the Angels and was out of baseball until he tried another comeback with the Red Sox in 1975. After an excellent spring training he made the regular season roster and got the team's 1st hit of that season and later the club's 1st HR. He was outrighted to Triple-A Pawtucket in mid-June and retired shortly thereafter.

ALL-STAR GAMES AT FENWAY PARK

On July 13, 1999 the Red Sox hosted the 3rd All-Star Game ever to be played at Fenway Park. The American League defeated the National League 4-1 as Pedro Martinez, the eventual MVP of the Mid-Summer Classic, started and struck out 5 of the 1st 6 batters he faced for the win.

Fenway Park was the site of the 2nd All-Star Game played in 1961. That game featured solid pitching by both sides and ended in a 1-1 tie that was called after 9 innings and a 30-minute rain delay. The Tigers' Rocky Colavito hit a 1st-inning home run for the AL, which managed only 4 hits in the game. The Nationals' only run scored on an RBI single by the Cardinals' Bill White off Red Sox rookie Don Schwall, who allowed all 5 NL hits in 3.0 innings. The other Red Sox representative at the '61 game at Fenway was manager Mike Higgins, who served as a coach.

The 1st game held at Fenway was on July 9, 1946 after a 1-year hiatus due to World War II-related travel restrictions. The American League defeated the National League 12-0 in a game highlighted by the hitting heroics of Ted Williams. Williams delivered 2 home runs, 2 singles and a walk in his 5 at-bats scoring 4 runs and driving in 5. The AL had 14 hits, the NL 3. In addition to Williams, 7 other Red Sox were AL All-Stars in '46: Johnny Pesky, Dom DiMaggio, Bobby Doerr, Rudy York, Hal Wagner, Dave Ferriss and Mickey Harris.

1945 ALL-STAR REPLACEMENT GAME

Due to the on-going war in Europe and with Japan, no All-Star Game was scheduled for 1945, the only year no game has been played since the series began in 1933.

However, on July 9-10, 1945 there were 9 exhibitions played with proceeds going to benefit various war relief efforts. On July 9, games were played at Chicago's Comiskey Park (Cubs vs. White Sox), New York's Polo Grounds (Yankees vs. Giants), in Great Lakes, IL (Athletics vs. Great Lakes Navy Team), in Cleveland (Reds vs. Indians) and Indiantown Gap, PA (Pirates vs. Indiantown Gap Army Team). The biggest crowds were 47,144 in Chicago and 41,267 in New York.

On July 10, games were played at Washington's Griffith Stadium (Dodgers vs. Senators), St. Louis' Sportsmans Park (Cardinals vs. Browns), Boston's Fenway Park (Braves vs. Red Sox) and Philadelphia's Shibe Park (Phillies vs. Athletics). The highest attendance figures were in Washington (28,791) and St. Louis (24,113).

The only Major League team that didn't play was Detroit, who was denied permission to travel to Pittsburgh by the U.S. Government. The Pirates therefore played a U.S. Army team. The A's played a game each day in two locations.

The game at Fenway Park drew 22,809 plus 846 servicemen and women and raised $70,000 for the United War Fund. New Commissioner Senator A.B. "Happy" Chandler, made his first official visit to Boston and took part in the first-pitch ceremonies with Massachusetts Governor Maurice Tobin.

The Red Sox won the game 8-1 behind rookie pitching star Dave Ferriss and 3 hits, including a home run, by rightfielder George "Catfish" Metkovich.

MOST HITS IN AN ALL-STAR GAME

Ted Williams and Carl Yastrzemski are tied with Joe Medwick for most hits in an All-Star Game with 4. Williams had his 4 (2 singles, 2 home runs) on July 9, 1946 at Fenway Park in an American League 12-0 win. Yastrzemski hit 3 singles and a double July 14, 1970 in Cincinnati in a 12-inning, 5-4 National League win. He was named Outstanding Player of the game.

THE BOSTON RED SOX HALL OF FAME/COOPERSTOWN

Since its inception in 1995, the Red Sox Hall of Fame has recognized the outstanding careers of former Red Sox players and managers. A 14-member selection committee made up of Red Sox broadcasters and executives, past and present media personnel, and representatives from The Sports Museum of New England and the BoSox Booster Club is responsible for selecting candidates. The feats of non-uniformed Red Sox executive personnel are also considered for induction into the Hall. A memorable moment in Red Sox history is recognized as well for its special significance. To be eligible for nomination, players/managers must have spent at least three years with the Red Sox and must also have been out of uniform as an active player/manager at least three years. Non-uniformed personnel selected and the memorable moment will be chosen only by a unanimous vote of the Boston Red Sox Hall of Fame Selection Committee. The next Red Sox Hall of Fame induction will be in 2012.

The Red Sox Hall of Fame's 1995 inaugural class of 16 included 8 inductees who had previously been elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame. The names of all 16 Red Sox Hall of Fame inductees who had been enshrined in Cooperstown prior to becoming Red Sox Hall of Famers are in boldface below.

RETIRED NUMBERS

The Red Sox first wore numbers on their uniforms in 1931. The Red Sox policy on retiring uniform numbers is based on the following criteria: 1) Election to the National Baseball Hall of Fame, 2) At least 10 years played with the Red Sox and 3) Finish his career with the club. Johnny Pesky, who is not in the National Baseball Hall of Fame, is the only exception to these rules. In 1997 the Red Sox retired No. 42, joining the rest of MLB in honoring the legacy of Jackie Robinson.

HOW THEY BECAME THE RED SOX

As 1 of 4 clubs to enter into the newly formed American League in 1901, the Red Sox were initially called the Boston Americans. Other nicknames for the club at that time were the Somersets, after original owner Charles W. Somers; Plymouth Rocks; Speed Boys; Puritans; Pilgrims, but they were officially called the Americans. These various names were applied until December 18, 1907, when the current name "Red Sox" was adopted. The origin of this name is traced to the Boston Red Stockings of the powerful National League in the 1870's and 1880's. In 1907 the Red Stockings (who later became the Braves) abandoned the red hosiery they customarily wore. Manager Fred Tenney believed that the red dye in the socks could possibly cause infection in spike wounds. Red Sox Owner John I. Taylor stated, "From now on we'll wear red stockings, and I'm grabbing that name Red Sox!"

NOTE: The W-L-T columns total one game less than the 16,973 game total reflected above as a result of a protested game and a Major League ruling. On July 28, 1924 the Red Sox played a 10-inning game vs. St. Louis, a supposed 10-5 win. St. Louis protested the game and AL President Ban Johnson ordered the game replayed on September 13 as the 2nd game of a doubleheader. The game of July 28 was discounted and Red Sox Manager Lee Fohl and the St. Louis manager were credited with a no decision. The Red Sox won the replay of the protested game 13-11.

Beginning with the 1920 season, The Major League rule states: "If a protested game of at least five innings duration was ordered replayed in its entirety, then no win or loss is credited, but both managers are credited with a no-decision game."

NOTE: A uniform GWRBI rule was adopted by both leagues in 1979 — "The RBI that gives a team a lead it never relinquishes." Until 1979 the Red Sox rule was simply, the run that was one more than the opposition's final score. GWRBI was discontinued as an official statistic after the 1988 season, but the Red Sox still use the 1979 rule.

LONGEST KNOWN HOME RUNS AT FENWAY PARK

On June 19, 1977, Carl Yastrzemski hit the longest known home run to the right of the bleachers, an 8th-inning bomb off Yankees RHP Dick Tidrow. It reached approximately 460 feet before striking the facing of the right-field roof about 20 feet to the right of where the retired No. 42 now appears. It is the only ball to reach the right-field roof façade.

On September 21, 1956, Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, batting left-handed, hit the longest known homer to straight-away center field off RHP Frank Sullivan. It carried approximately 480 feet before it struck one foot below the top of the brick barrier located behind Section 36.

On June 9 1946, Ted Williams hit a 502-foot home run to right off Detroit RHP Fred Hutchinson. The ball landed on top of the straw hat of Joseph A. Boucher, 56, a construction engineer from Albany, NY who was sitting in Section 42, Row 37, Seat 21. "The sun was right in our eyes," he said. "All we could do was duck. I'm glad I didn't stand up. They say it bounced a dozen rows higher, but after it hit my head, I was no longer interested." At that time the bleachers were benches and not individual seats.

Six home runs were hit over the old center field wall to the right of the flag pole (see chart). The elevation over the old brick wall was installed prior to the 1976 season and was removed prior to the 2003 season. No one hit a home run over that elevation that was in place from 1976-2002.

RED SOX IN THE POSTSEASON

The Red Sox are 79-72-1 all-time in postseason play, having advanced to the postseason 21 times in 110 American League seasons, including 12 times in the last 25 years and 6 times in the last 8 years. The Red Sox are 16-13 in 29 postseason series, having gone 5-4 in 9 trips to the AL Division Series (16-14 in Division Series play), 4-5 in 9 trips to the AL Championship Series (22-29 in Championship Series play) and 7-4 in 11 trips to the World Series (41-26-1 in World Series games).

The Red Sox set a Major League record with an 8-game winning streak to close out their run to the World Championship in 2004. In 2005, the Chicago White Sox matched that mark by winning their final 8 games en route to the Championship. The Red Sox also had a 7-game winning streak starting from Game 5 of the 2007 AL Championship Series through their World Series win in 2007.

The Red Sox are 43-32-1 in postseason home games, including a 36-30-1 postseason mark at Fenway Park. They hosted home World Series games at the Huntington Avenue Grounds in 1903 and at Braves Field in 1915 and 1916.

RED SOX IN THE WORLD SERIES

The Boston Americans, who became the Red Sox in 1908, won the 1st World Series ever held (1903), 1 of only 4 best-of-9 Series to be played (again in 1919-21). By beating the Pittsburgh Pirates of the more established National League, they caused such an embarrassment that the NL refused to participate the following year, when the Red Sox repeated as AL Champions. The Red Sox have won 7 of the 11 Series in which they have played (with 7-game losses in 1946-67-75-86), holding an overall record of 41-26-1 in games played.

The Cardinals battled back from 7-2 and 9-7 deficits to tie the score, but Mark Bellhorn's 2-run homer off the right-field foul pole on a 1-2 pitch from Julian Tavarez in the 8th proved too much, as the Red Sox won their 1st World Series game since Game 5 of the 1986 Fall Classic...Boston jumped out to a 4-0 advantage in the 1st on David Ortiz's 3-run blast and Bill Mueller's RBI single...After the Cardinals tied it at 7-7 in the 6th, the Sox took a 9-7 lead on RBI singles by Manny Ramirez and Ortiz...St. Louis came back in the next half inning to tie the score again, using an Edgar Renteria RBI single off Keith Foulke and a Ramirez fielding error on Larry Walker's fly to left that scored Roger Cedeno...Foulke worked out of a bases-loaded jam to end the threat in the 8th, getting Scott Rolen to pop out and striking out Jim Edmonds.

Curt Schilling, who earlier in the day had all but ruled himself out of his start because of pain from his sutured tendon in his right ankle, decided to pitch just hours before the game and went on to allow just 1 unearned run over 6.0 innings as the Red Sox were able to overcome 4 errors, 3 by Bill Mueller, to win, 6-4, and take a 2-0 series lead over the Cardinals...Mark Bellhorn's 2-run double in the 4th proved to be the difference...Jason Varitek got things going in the 1st with a 2-out, 2-run triple to the triangle in right-center field, and Orlando Cabrera closed out Boston's scoring with a 2-out, 2-run single to left...Alan Embree relieved Schilling in the 7th, striking out the only 3 batters he faced...Keith Foulke fanned Jim Edmonds to end the 8th, and retired the side in order in the 9th to close it out.

Pedro Martinez allowed just 3 hits in 7.0 shutout innings, and Manny Ramirez hit his 4th career World Series home run as the Red Sox stymied the Cardinals, 4-1, to move within 1 win of ending their 86-year title drought... It was 2 key defensive plays that helped keep St. Louis scoreless through the 1st 8 innings... After Ramirez's solo homer in the top of the 1st, the Red Sox left fielder in the bottom half ended a 1-out, bases-loaded jam by throwing out Larry Walker at the plate trying to tag up from third on Jim Edmonds' fly-ball out...Then in the 3rd inning, with Jeff Suppan on third and Edgar Renteria on second, Walker grounded 1 to Mark Bellhorn, who threw to David Ortiz at first for the out...Suppan was caught between third and home on the play, and Ortiz threw a strike to Bill Mueller at third to get the Cardinals pitcher diving back to the bag...The Sox used RBI singles from Trot Nixon (4th inning), Ramirez (5th) and Mueller (5th) for their other 3 runs.

The Red Sox shut out the Cardinals, 3-0, to clinch their 1st World Series Championship since 1918...With 2 outs and Albert Pujols on second in the 9th, Edgar Renteria grounded a comebacker to Keith Foulke, who flipped to Doug Mientkiewicz at first for the final out and a 4-game sweep of the National League champs... Derek Lowe matched Pedro Martinez's effort from the night before, allowing only 3 hits in 7.0 scoreless innings...Johnny Damon's 1st-inning, lead-off homer got things started, and the Sox offense tacked on 2 more in the 3rd when Trot Nixon smacked a 3-0 pitch off the right-center field wall for a 2-run double...Boston never trailed in the series, becoming only the 4th team in history to win a World Series in that manner, joining the '63 Dodgers, '66 Orioles and '89 Athletics...Manny Ramirez was named World Series MVP, going 7-for-17 (.412) with a homer and 4 RBI.

RED SOX FACTS - Who Said It Can't Be Done?

The 2004 Red Sox became the 1st team in baseball history and just the 3rd team in the history of Major League Baseball, the NBA and the NHL, to overcome a 3-0 deficit to win a best-of-7 postseason series when they beat the Yankees in a 7-game ALCS…Both previous instances had come in hockey…Toronto rallied past Detroit in the 1942 Stanley Cup Finals, and the Islanders turned the trick against Pittsburgh in the 2nd round of the 1975 playoffs.

RED SOX FACTS - Walking Away A Winner

The Red Sox have 11 walk-off wins overall in their postseason annals, 7 in the last 6 appearances…here's the complete list:

Game 8, 1912 World Series Larry Gardner's sacrifice fly with one out in the bottom of the 10th scored Steve Yerkes and capped a 2-run rally that gave the Red Sox a 3-2 win over the New York Giants and the World Series championship in their first season at Fenway Park…the Sox won the Series 4 games to 3 with one tie.
Game 3, 1915 World Series Duffy Lewis delivered an RBI single with one out in the bottom of the 9th, bringing Harry Hooper home with the game-winner as the Red Sox edged the Phillies, 2-1, at Braves Field.
Game 2, 1916 World Series Pinch-hitter Del Gainer singled home Mike McNally with one out in the bottom of the 14th to give the Red Sox a 2-1 win over Brooklyn at Braves Field.
Game 6, 1975 World Series Carlton Fisk led off the bottom of the 12th with a homer off Cincinnati's Pat Darcy, giving Boston a 7-6 victory and forcing a decisive Game 7.
Game 3, 2003 AL Division Series A loss from elimination, the Red Sox lived to fight another day after pinch-hitter Trot Nixon drilled a 2-run homer off Rich Harden with one out in the bottom of the 11th.
Game 3, 2004 AL Division Series David Ortiz gave the Red Sox a 3-game sweep of the Angels with a 2-run homer into the Green Monster Seats with 2 outs in the bottom of the 10th lifting the Sox into the ALCS with an 8-6 win.
Game 4, 2004 AL Championship Series Down 3 games to none, the Red Sox stayed alive when David Ortiz crushed a 2-run blast to right field off the Yankees' Paul Quantrill.
Game 5, 2004 AL Championship Series The Red Sox continued their quest toward the greatest comeback in baseball history when, for the 2nd night in a row, David Ortiz delivered the game-winning run in walk-off fashion. This time, facing Esteban Loaiza, Ortiz singled Johnny Damon home from 2nd with 2 outs in the bottom of the 14th for a 5-4 win.
Game 2, 2007 AL Division Series Manny Ramirez belted a 3-run, walk-off homer over the Green Monster and into the Boston night off Francisco Rodriguez in the bottom of the 9th inning to give the Red Sox a 6-3 win over the Angels. It was Ramirez's first career postseason walk-off homer and, including the regular season, the 4th of his career, first since September 10, 1996. It was also his first walk-off home run in a Red Sox uniform.
Game 4, 2008 AL Division Series Jed Lowrie drove in Jason Bay with a 2-out, walk-off single in the bottom of the 9th inning ,giving the Red Sox their 5th Division Series win in club history. It was the 23rd time in postseason history that a series was decided by a walk-off hit, the 4th time that a rookie has done so.
Game 5, 2008 AL Championship Series J.D. Drew drove in Kevin Youkilis from 2nd base with a 9th-inning, walk-off single to cap a 7-run comeback victory, the largest postseason comeback since Game 4 of the 1929 World Series, the 2nd largest in playoff history, and the largest ever for a team facing elimination.

Following his playing career, Tommy worked in the Yankees system before returning to Boston in the public relations department in 1979 and as the Major League first base coach and base running instructor from 1980-84. Before rejoining the Red Sox in 2000, he coached 10 years with the Expos, his final 7 as the hitting, base running and outfield coach.

Frank Malzone, a member of the inaugural Red Sox Hall of Fame class in 1995, returned as a player development consultant in 2008. He spent 11 seasons with the Red Sox and was an 8-time All-Star and 3-time Gold Glove Award winner at third base. Malzone ranks among the all-time Red Sox leaders in several categories, and he hit .276 with 131 home runs and 716 RBI in 1,359 Red Sox games. In 1957, his first full season with the Red Sox, Malzone recorded 103 RBI and tied an AL record with 10 assists in one game. He became the first player in history to lead all AL third basemen in games, putouts, assists, double plays and fielding percentage. Prior to his consultant role, Malzone served as a Red Sox scout.

CARL YASTRZEMSKI

Hall of Fame outfielder Carl Yastrzemski succeeded Ted Williams in left field as a rookie in 1961 and today still follows in his footsteps instructing young Red Sox hitters. A 3-time batting champion and 18-time All-Star, Yaz became the last Major League Triple Crown winner when he led the AL in batting (.326), home runs (44) and RBI (121) in 1967. He was the first AL player to collect 400 home runs and 3,000 hits in a career. In 23 years with the Red Sox, Yaz won the MVP Award in 1967 and 7 Gold Gloves. He retired ranked 1st on the all-time list for career games (3,308), ranked 3rd in at-bats (11,988) and walks (1,845), and was 6th in total bases (5,539), 7th in hits (3,419) and doubles (646) and 9th in RBI (1,844).

JOHNNY PESKY

Johnny begins his 60th season with the Red Sox, 43rd in a row, after starting his career in the minor leagues with the Red Sox in 1940. The All-Star shortstop hit .307 in a 10-year career with Boston, Detroit and Washington. Pesky has served the Red Sox as a player, coach, manager, radio and TV announcer and advertising salesman. In 1982 the Boston Baseball Writers gave him their "Good Guy" Award. A member of the inaugural class of Red Sox Hall of Famers in 1995, his uniform No. 6 was retired at Fenway Park on September 28, 2008.

His coaching career began in 1955 under Ralph Houk at Triple-A Denver. He managed in the Tigers system from 1956-60 and skippered Boston's Triple-A Seattle affiliate from 1961-62 before managing Boston's Major League club from 1963-64. He coached with the Pirates in the mid-1960s, managing in their system before a 6-year stint on the Red Sox broadcast crew beginning in 1969. A special assistant to GM Lou Gorman from 1984-92 after 10 years as a Red Sox coach, he also served as an interim manager for Pawtucket in 1990. Pesky held the club record for hits by a rookie until 1997 and tallied 200+ hits in each of his first 3 seasons.

JIM RICE

Jim returns as a special organizational instructor, his 39th season with the Red Sox. He spent 6 years as Boston's Big League hitting coach from 1995-97 after 3 seasons as a roving minor league hitting instructor. He also appears as an analyst on NESN's broadcast team. Rice was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame in 2009 and was part of the Red Sox Hall of Fame's inaugural 1995 class.

The 8-time All-Star hit .298 with 382 homers, 2,452 hits, 373 doubles and 79 triples in 2,089 games from 1974-89. He is the only player to have 3 straight 35-homer, 200-hit years (1977-79). The club's No. 1 draft pick in 1971, Rice helped Boston to the 1975 AL pennant as a rookie. In 1978 he was AL MVP, leading the Majors with 46 homers, 139 RBI, 15 triples, 406 total bases, 213 hits and a .600 slugging pct. He is the only AL player since 1937 with 400 total bases and the only player ever to lead either league outright in homers, triples and RBI. Rice led the AL in total bases 3 straight years (1977-79), tying for the AL record. He helped Boston to the AL pennant and finished 3rd in MVP voting in 1986. Jim and his wife, Corine, are the parents of Chauncy Brandon and Carissa Jacinda.

LUIS TIANT

Luis returns as special assignment instructor in 2010. He rejoined the Red Sox organization in 2002 as pitching coach for Short-Season A Lowell. During Boston's 1975 pennant run, he beat Oakland with a 3-hitter in the 1st game of the ALCS, shut out Cincinnati in the 1st game of the World Series and defeated the Reds again in Game 5 with a 163-pitch complete game. His final Red Sox outing, a 2-hitter on October 1, 1978, set up a 1-game playoff vs. the Yankees.

Tiant went 229-172 with a 3.30 ERA and 2,416 K's in 19 Major League seasons with the Indians (1964-69), Twins (1970), Red Sox, Yankees (1979-80), Pirates (1981) and Angels (1982). RED SOX TELEVISION AND RADIO INFORMATION

TELEVISION

NESN (New England Sports Network), New England's most watched sports network and one of the top rated regional sports network in the country, is in its 28th year of carrying Red Sox baseball. For the fifth consecutive year, NESN will deliver every game in high definition (HD) along with one hour of HD pre- and post-game coverage before and after every game.

NESN's award-winning broadcast team of Don Orsillo, Jerry Remy and Heidi Watney are back to bring Red Sox fans nearly every game once again this season. Tom Caron is in his eighth year as host of NESN's pre- and post-game coverage and is joined by an All-Star line-up of studio analysts that includes Hall of Famers Dennis Eckersley, Jim Rice and Peter Gammons.

DON ORSILLO is in his 11th season of doing play-by-play on NESN. Born in Melrose, MA, Don grew up in Madison, NH and is a graduate of Northeastern University. Orsillo previously announced baseball for the Single-A Pittsfield Mets (1991-92), the Double-A Binghamton Mets (1993-95), and the Triple-A Pawtucket Red Sox (1996-2000). He also called the action for the American Hockey League's Springfield Indians/Falcons (1991-1996), Providence College men's basketball on ESPN Plus (2005-2008) and NESN's Boston College basketball coverage. For the past four years, Orsillo has been selected to be a play-by-play announcer for TBS's Division Series coverage. Orsillo was named the 2005 Massachusetts Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association and is a two-time Emmy Award winner for outstanding play-by-play.

JERRY REMY has served as the Red Sox' color analyst on NESN for the past 24 years announcing over 2,500 Red Sox games during his career. The long-time Fenway Park favorite was elected to the Red Sox Hall of Fame in 2006 for his playing and broadcasting accomplishments and was named the Massachusetts Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association in 2004. A native of Somerset, MA, Remy was an infielder for 10 years in the Majors with the California Angels (1975-77) and Red Sox (1978-84) with a career .275 batting average and 208 stolen bases in 1,154 games. He ranked among the AL leaders with 10 triples and 41 stolen bases in 1977 and was an AL All-Star in his first season with Boston in 1978, when he scored 87 runs and stole 30 bases. Remy has also worked games for FOX as part of its Saturday Game of the Week package. In September of 2007, Remy was elected President of Red Sox Nation through on-line voting and can often be found at Remy's Bar and Grill, which opened in 2010 and features a view of Fenway Park.

HEIDI WATNEY is in her fourth year as NESN's Red Sox reporter. She joins Don Orsillo and Jerry Remy providing pre-game analysis, live in-game updates, and post-game interviews from the ballpark. Watney also works as an anchor and reporter for NESN's The Ultimate Red Sox Show and Red Sox Report and also contributes regularly to NESN.com. Prior to joining NESN, Watney served as a weekend sports anchor and reporter for KMPH Fox-26 News and sports talk radio show host for 1430 ESPN Radio KFIG in Fresno, CA. The Fresno, CA native is a 2003 graduate of the University of San Diego with a degree in communication studies and a minor in theatre.

TOM CARON is in his eighth full season hosting NESN's pre- and post-game programs. The Lewiston, ME native joined NESN in 1995 and has served as a studio host for Boston Bruins hockey, Red Sox field reporter and Hockey East play-by-play announcer. Before joining NESN he served as a sports anchor in Plattsburgh, NY, Hanover, NH, and Portland, ME. In 1993 he joined the Portland Pirates of the AHL as play-by-play announcer and communications director. Caron is a regular contributor to NESN.com. He is involved with many local and regional charities including serving on the advisory board for Good Sports, Inc. and working with Mass Mentoring, the MetroWest Food Bank, the Loring Arena Legacy Foundation and Mass Hockey.

DENNIS ECKERSLEY is a studio analyst on NESN's popular pre- and post-game shows. He was elected into Baseball's Hall of Fame in 2005 after pitching 24 seasons in the Major Leagues with five teams (Indians, Red Sox, Cubs, A's, Cardinals), including two different stints with the Red Sox (1978-1984, 1998). He spent the first 12 years of his career as a starting pitcher then switched to the bullpen to become one of the most dominant closers in the game. During a five-year stretch beginning in 1988, Eckersley averaged 44 saves, a 1.88 ERA, more than a strikeout/inning and less than one walk/9 innings. In 1992, Eckersley became only the second relief pitcher to win both the AL MVP and Cy Young Award in the same season. The six-time All-Star has served as a color analyst for the Oakland A's television broadcasts (1999), has filled in for Jerry Remy during Red Sox broadcasts and has served as a postseason studio analyst for TBS since 2008.

JIM RICE is in his ninth year as a NESN studio analyst. In 2009 he became the 32nd member of the Red Sox to be elected into the National Baseball Hall of Fame. Rice played 16 seasons in the Major Leagues, all of them with the Red Sox. The eight-time All-Star finished his career with a .298 batting average, 382 home runs and 1,451 RBI. Rice was voted the AL MVP in 1978 and helped lead the Red Sox to two World Series (1975 and 1986). He ranks third behind only Ted Williams and Carl Yastrzemski on the Red Sox all-time leaders in home runs, RBI, hits and total bases. Since retiring after the 1989 season, Rice has remained active in the Red Sox organization, serving as a minor league hitting instructor from 1992 to 1994 before joining the parent club as hitting coach from 1995-2000. He currently serves as a special organizational instructor for the team.

PETER GAMMONS is in his second year as a baseball analyst on NESN. A three-time National Sportswriter of the Year recipient by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association, Gammons was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame as the 2004 recipient of the J.G. Taylor Spink Award for outstanding baseball writing. He spent 21 years as a baseball analyst for ESPN and online contributor to ESPN.com after a Hall of Fame career as a reporter for The Boston Globe and Sports Illustrated. Gammons is also a gifted musician and is one of the creators and hosts of Hot Stove Cool Music, a biannual charity concert and musical variety show that has raised more than $2 million for the Jimmy Fund and Theo and Paul Epstein's Foundation To Be Named Later, a branch of the Red Sox Foundation.

RED SOX RADIO NETWORK

The Red Sox Radio Network carries every regular season game. The Red Sox and Entercom Communications announced a 10-year agreement for 2007-2016 in May 2006. A network of over 60 stations broadcasts Boston's games throughout the New England area. Joe Castiglione and Dave O'Brien will again provide radio coverage for most games in 2011. Jon Rish serves as the host of pre- and post-game Red Sox coverage.

JOE CASTIGLIONE is in his 29th season on Red Sox radio, the second longest tenure of any Boston broadcaster to 32 years for the late Ned Martin. Prior to coming to Boston, Castiglione called television games for the Cleveland Indians in 1979 and 1982 and for the Milwaukee Brewers in 1981. The Hamden, CT native has also announced television games for the NBA's Cleveland Cavaliers and did college basketball on NESN for six years. During the off-season, Joe teaches classes in broadcast journalism at both Northeastern University and Franklin Pierce University and has been an active staff member for the Jimmy Fund since 1990. A graduate of both Colgate and Syracuse Universities, Joe is the author of Broadcast Rites and Sites-I Saw It on the Radio with the Boston Red Sox, which was published in 2004. Joe and his wife, Jan have three children and are expecting their fifth grandchild in March of 2011. They reside in Marshfield, MA.

DAVE O'BRIEN enters his fifth season doing Red Sox baseball and his 21st year calling Major League games. O'Brien also broadcasts for ESPN, where he has handled a variety of play-by-play roles, including Major League Baseball, Major League Soccer, College Basketball, the NCAA Women's Final Four and the NBA since joining the network in 2002. O'Brien was the voice of the 2006 World Cup Soccer Tournament televised by ABC that was nominated for an Emmy and has called the last several League Championship Series and World Series for MLB's International TV coverage. He worked as both a radio and television announcer for the Florida Marlins from 1993-2001 and broadcast television games for the New York Mets from 2003-05. O'Brien has also done play-by-play for the Atlanta Braves and college football and basketball action for the University of Georgia and University of Miami. During that time he served as a Radio SportsCenter anchor and hosted studio programming for Major League Baseball, NBA, and Bowl Championship Series coverage. Rish, who also calls games for the Red Sox in Dave O'Brien's absence, has been a play-by-play announcer for Boston College men's hockey and women's basketball. Corrections have been made in the above listing thanks to information provided to us from John K. Moynahan, author of 50 Years At The Game, A Sports Traveler's Journey, and other sources. We appreciate this input as we attempt to produce an accurate account of our broadcasters. We are aware that through the years there have been "guest" or temporary fill-in broadcasters for Red Sox games, however, they are too numerous to list here.
